HOOVER IN NEW YORK MONDAY; 70,000 SEEK TO HEAR ADDRESS

ROGERS SERIOUS; IS AFFECTED BY DEATH OF PILOT

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—It was a dark, rainy, cloudy day on the New York end of the air mail, no planes through in two days.

I wanted to get home to my family in California. I insisted on going. It wasn't bravery. It was dumb ignorance and an unlimited confidence in all air mail pilots.

"We will try to get through if you insist," and we got through, clear to Cleveland.

Yesterday he didn't get through.

I kinder feel like his skill saved my life, so "Hoppie," old boy, here's hoping you are piloting the best cloud the Boss has got in his hangar up there, and you don't have to worry about low ceiling, engine missing, head winds or even whether the old rip cord will pull in "case."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Actual awarding of the contract for the new bridge across the Neshannock at North street, and announcement that work will be started in the near future, assures that this structure will finally be erected. After discussion of many years the idea is to develop into reality. Building of this bridge will mean that a number of new traffic routes can be developed. For instance a large amount of north hill traffic that is going east can make use of the Rural avenue route to Neshannock avenue, and will not need to come into the business section of the city to get across the river.

Building activity is noted in the vicinity of the new George Washington Junior high school. It is remarkable how fast the territory around a new school builds up.

Announcement that an agreement will be made to remove the Rosena furnace dam in the Neshannock creek will result in a move that many have long suggested as a means of flood prevention here. It is the belief of many that elimination of this dam will result in the stream largely dredging itself through New Castle.

New Castle and Lawrence county folks who included Gettysburg and Valley Forge in their vacation tours this summer, will be interested to know that about a half million more citizens were in the same class. Records show that 450,000 visitors were at Valley Forge during the summer and more than half a million at Gettysburg. Being a guide at Gettysburg wouldn't be a half bad job for the summer.

Announcement that Ivor V. Davis has been named to head the Hallowe'en celebration in New Castle this year, assures that the event will be a success. Mr. Davis, who is head of the American Legion, is an organizer and executive who will put the Hallowe'en program over with a bang.

Pa Newc observes that the curve on Atlantic avenue just south of Etna street is being widened. The curve was rather difficult to swing around and the widening will be welcomed by motorists. Pa News notes that most of the bad turns in the city have now been widened and driving is much easier and safer to be sure.

South of Washington street in the very heart of town there is a certain vacant lot that is always filled with trucks, cars of every sort and the buildings and surroundings are not what one would expect in a garden. However, there is an old wire fence there. Stretched along for no reason other than that it has never been torn down and all over the fence is a beautiful old vine. Today, beautiful little blue flowers are blooming on it. It is a decided contrast to the surroundings.

Pa Newc observes: a collie dog, collarless, running about the sidewalks on Washington street. He has apparently escaped his leash and dis-

Scottish Rite Reunion Guests Well Pleased With New Castle Visit

Governor Fisher And Other Notables Express Themselves On Wonderful Facilities Here

City Receives Most Favorable Recognition As Result Of Recent Reunion

Closing with a ball that taxed the capacity of the immense cathedral ball room, the semi-annual reunion of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite closed Friday evening, and the closing of it marked what has probably been the most successful affair of its kind in the history of Scottish Rite Masonry in New Castle.

The class which received its degrees this time numbered among it the governor of the state, John S. Fisher, and the secretary of labor in the Coolidge cabinet, James J. Davis. The very fact that men of this caliber were here to take their degrees attracted a brilliant group of men from all over Pennsylvania and from eastern Ohio.

Outstanding Men Here.

Scott Township To Vote On Bond Issue For School

Proposed To Issue $34,000 Worth Of Bonds For Consolidated Building

HARLANSBURG HOUSE IS IN BAD SHAPE

Considerable interest is being aroused in Scott township over a proposed bond issue of $34,000 to be used for the erection of a consolidated school building. Electors will vote on the proposition at the coming election.

The state department has condemned the old two story brick building at Harlansburg. In addition to it, Harlansburg has a one room frame building, located in the rear of the brick building, which is used for high school purposes. This building is inadequate to accommodate the needs of the township.

In view of the fact that two schools in Scott township, the Cooper and the Stoughton, have been closed, owing to a lack of pupils, it will be an easy matter to erect a building that would take care of the entire needs of the township.

May Be In Harlansburg.

If located at Harlansburg, or somewhere in the vicinity, it would be accessible over improved roads to the Bredin school, east of Harlansburg, and the McFarland and McCaslin schools, west of Harlansburg.

There is only one school, the Hamilton-Young from which pupils would have to be hauled over unimproved roads, but there is a good ash road to this school. Attendance at practically all of the schools of the township is not nearly so great as it was many years ago, and it is believed by those who have studied the situation that pupils could be transported to a consolidated school for much less than it takes to run the one room school buildings. Sentiment in the township is said to strongly favor the consolidated school proposition. The high school would also be located in the building.

POST-MORTEM EXAMINATION REVEALS HICKMAN NORMAL

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 20.—University of California scientists today completed a post-mortem examination of the body of William Edward Hickman. A few hours after he had gone to his death on the San Quentin gallows Hickman's body was turned over to the scientists for brain tests.

The examination was made at the written request of William Thomas Hickman, father of the boy slayer.

The examination revealed two outstanding things:

1.—That Hickman as far as a post-mortem can determine, was normal, and that no signs of insanity were present.

2.—That Hickman's neck was not broken when he was hanged yesterday, and that he strangled to deatn

ANTICIPATE THAT HOOVER WILL REPLY TO SMITH IN GOVERNOR'S OWN CITY

Could Fill Yankee Stadium With Crowd Seeking to Hear Republican Candidate's Address Says Chairman Hilles. Hoover Leaves on Sunday Afternoon For New York Visit—Expect Hoover to Answer Smith's Address on Republican Economy in Coolidge Administration.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Al Smith's own New York will witness one of the greatest political rallies in recent years when Herbert Hoover comes to town next Monday, according to plans completed today for the reception of the Republican Presidential nominee.

From the moment of Hoover's arrival at eight a. m., until his departure about midnight, according to the Republican committee's plans, New York is to be in a large measure turned into a Hoover town.

Could Fill Yankee Stadium

"We could have filled the Yankee stadium for the evening address, said National Committeeman Charles D. Hilles today in lamenting the limited capacity of Madison Square Garden, where Hoover is to make his night speech. "Applications for tickets have numbered well over seventy thousand. Only about seven thousand were available."

Confirming Hilles' reports of a rush for tickets were accounts of speculators' sales of the free cardboard for as much as $5 along the rialto.

Democrats Are Retrenching

Meantime the first order for financial retrenchment in the Democratic Presidential campaign went forward quietly from national headquarters here today, officials admitted. Following reports that the committee had been compelled to borrow $500,000 from New York banks for financing the campaign, Chairman John J. Raskob and National Treasurer James W. Gerard sanctioned orders for retrenchment. National headquarters staff has been reduced by about eight per cent during the past week, and drastic cuts have been ordered in printing and publication costs.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Determined to make his New York address the outstanding utterance of his campaign, Herbert Hoover will sum up the Republican issues on which he seeks the Presidency, discuss the relationship of government to business and reply directly to Democratic assaults upon the financial record of the Coolidge administration.

This was learned at Republican headquarters here today as Hoover completed a final draft of the speech. It probably will be withheld from newspapers until tomorrow, when he leaves early in the afternoon for New York City aboard a special train. Hoover will rest at a downtown hotel over night, spend Monday conferring with New York leaders and speak at nine o'clock (E. S. T.) in Madison Square Garden before 30,000 persons.

Likely Program

The program Hoover will offer to American interests undoubtedly will include pledges to use every agency of his administration if elected to:

1.—Promote financial stability by economy in expenditures, wise taxation and sound fiscal finance, including rapid reduction of the public debt and additional tax reduction as the federal income permits.

2.—Promote business stability by steps to eliminate periodical fluctuations in trade by government co-operation in eliminating industrial waste

Arthur Mometer

All summer long in the rain and heat, he has worked, sun-up till the dark. Not for him was the picnic grove, nor the all night joy riding lark. There was work to do in the wheat and corn, and the stock to be watered and fed, a fence to be mended, a horse to be shoed, or a roof to be put on a shed. There were fields to be worked though the city man loafed, the farmer had things he must do, but the summer is done and the farmer is pleased as he sits and admires his view. The barns are all groaning with burdens of wheat, and the corn crib is filled to the top, and now he can sit by the fire a while and list to the corn popper po. His heariest labors are done for a while and the farmer can take time to play, and I know of no person who rates it as much, its cool, fifty-seven today.

WESTINGHOUSE COACH PAYS TRIBUTE TO NEW CASTLE TEAM

Westinghouse high school football team of Pittsburgh, arrived in New Castle shortly before 1 o'clock and made headquarters at The Castleton.

Coach O. H. Burton brought a squad of 34 men to New Castle today for the grid game with the strong New Castle high school football team, this afternoon.

"We are going to meet one of the greatest scholastic football teams in Western Pennsylvania today, and we will be lucky to hold them to a low score," said Coach Burton to a News man upon his arrival here.

"My team is in good condition, we will be outweighed, but not outfought, and all that we can hope for is a victory by a slight margin. We have gone through the season so far undefeated but this afternoon I look for the Bridenbaugh machine to ride to a win," with this parting shot Coach Burton went into the dining room of The Castleton where dinner was waiting.

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20.—In the custody of five heavily armed detectives, Paul Jaworski, gangster and killer, is to be taken to Pittsburgh this afternoon—a trip which is expected to bring him to death in the electric chair.

Chief of County Detectives George W. Murren of Pittsburgh, announced today he would take Jaworski on the 2:30 train.

Some consideration was given a proposal to return the convicted desperado by air plane but the plan was given up after a conference between the Pittsburg detectives this morning.

fragments of her story to C. Eugene Hames, resident manager of the hotel.

Joseph Huler, a painter, working nearby on the roof, was the only other witness of the tragedy.

Clutches at Boy

The young mother was holding the youngest boy, Benjamin, in her arms on the roof, to which she had gone to visit her cousin, Mrs. Cornelius Ruxton Love Jr., who occupies a pent house there.

Terrence, four, attempted to crowd into his mother's arm with his little brother as they were standing at the edge of the roof watching the view. He lost his balance and slipped over the wall.

The mother clutched at him, and as she did so the smaller boy slipped from her arms and fell. Mrs. Waldman fainted and was unconscious on the roof before the bodies struck the roof of an adjoining building 13 stories below.

Mrs. Waldman came to New York three days ago with her children from Paris, where her husband is writing.

appeared from his master; persons giving vent to their feelings in appreciation of the opening of the New Castle and Ellwood road; and a young lady who wore a fur coat through yesterday's heat.

People do not forget things that appear in the newspapers as easily as some would have it believed. Yesterday afternoon, call after call came into The News office wanting to know if Hickman had been hanged for sure and all about it.

Pa Newc in hopes of getting to the eyes of all the fact that persons calling in about the scores will make it snappy, and when he says snappy, he means snappy. So many call in and have to go through a whole rigamarole before they state their wants. The News has announced it many times, but some still persist in dragging out a long question about it. If you say, "score please," we know you mean New Castle. Others should be stated thusly, "Westminster-Grove City score" or Sowash-So and So." Hundreds of calls come into the office at once and it has to be done quickly. Please.

Pa Newc asked a local elevator man who operates in a rather busy building down town how many trips that he made in a day. He replied that he didn't know but that once he made 25 trips in five minutes and he got tired counting. Five trips a minute is working.

Pa Newc has often wondered if the telegraph boys are bought to fit the suits or if the suits are bought to fit the boys, or if either one is taken into consideration. He has noticed some of the youngsters hopping about and their suits seem to be the army style of "how do ya want it, too big or two little?"

Rumor hath it that many plans are being made for the pure bred sire train that will come to New Castle next month. The merchants and towns people are also realizing the benefit in such a movement and are taking a part in the program for the day.

Economist Says This State Will Vote For Hoover

Irving Fisher Of Yale, Internationally Known, Predicts Big Hoover Victory

By ARTHUR C. WIMER.
Special Washington News Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—Pennsylvania seems sure to vote for Herbert Hoover, Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale, nationally known economist, declared here Friday after visiting Herbert Hoover at his personal headquarters. Hoover seems likely to have a more overwhelming victory than any previous president the Yale professor asserted.

Prof. Fisher based his statements upon an analysis of the presidential poll conducted by the Literary Digest. He declared that he has a great deal of confidence in the poll because of the extraordinary success the Digest's forecasts have experienced in past elections. The professor is recognized internationally as an economist of ability and Republican leaders here are enthused over his election prophecy.

There are only eight states in the Union which are really doubtful, Prof. Fisher declared in his analysis. Pennsylvania, he said, will vote for Hoover.

given ballots to distribute at school houses which they visit between now and election. It is proposed to give them enough to go around each family represented at the schools.

It will be impossible for the school officials to get them to all schools between now and election time, but they will take them to all that they visit. Teachers, school directors or others can get them for their schools by calling at the commissioners office.

This move has been decided upon in order to facilitate voting on election day. It is realized that even in ordinary precincts much time would be consumed in voting if the voter has to acquaint himself with the amendments after he gets into the booth. By having the sample ballots to study the voter can be prepared to cast his or her ballot promptly.

RIGHT.

Hoover Stands Up for It.

Standing up for the Right is not a theory with Hoover. In all of the questions that have arisen during his career he was not only always on the side of Right but he made it his business to fight for it. Some of the heaviest tasks for which he received only gratitude as a reward, were those he assumed solely from his devotion to the Right. Facing all of the diplomats and generals of Europe after the armistice he declared. "There is no right in the law of God or man why we should continue to starve neutrals now that the war is over." Standing firmly upon his declaration he won the right to feed them and untold thousands in Europe owe their lives to his firm stand for Right. We need a President with a conscience like that.

Godcharles, City Engineer Walter Johns of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Justice of the Supreme Court Emory A. Walling, Chief Clerk of the Pennsylvania Senate John E. McCurdy, W. I. Berryman, vice president of the Union Trust company of Pittsburgh; Congressman Thomas C. Cochran of Mercer, Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad had a special carload of its officials here and many leaders of the political, industrial and civic world.

It was an unusual experience for New Castle, entertaining such a large crowd of distinguished guests and as usual New Castle hospitality scored. Speaking of his treatment here Governor Fisher said: "I have never spent a happier two days in my life than those which I spent in New Castle. The hospitality was unlimited, and I was amazed at the splendid city you have. Your cathedral is something to be proud of, and The Castleton, where I stopped, is a hotel that ranks with those of the larger cities. The service, the food and the surroundings there were perfect and I thoroughly enjoyed myself."

Don't Realize It Here.

"Your cathedral is so impressive, so magnificent, that I am afraid you people in New Castle cannot fully appreciate it," said State Librarian Frederick A. Godcharles. "It was a revelation to me as it was to Governor Fisher, and we are leaving New Castle with a most favorable opinion of the city and its people. We were royally treated and the time was all too short here."

Lieutenant Governor James and Walter Johns had been here before and knew the cathedral but they were interested in the governor's reaction to it. Smiling a little, the lieutenant-governor said: "I thought he would like it. Who wouldn't like that impressive building with its facilities to accommodate whatever is to be done."

While the governor and the others of the party left Friday evening, Mr. Godcharles and Mr. Johns would not leave until they had played the golf course of the New Castle Field club. James P. Toler and James P. Cope took Mr. Godcharles and Mr. Johns to the Field club this morning and also David Johns, son of Walter Johns, who had arrived Friday evening, and played the course before noon today.

Favorable Propaganda.

The reunion here was the finest kind of favorable propaganda for New Castle. Not a visitor but was warm in his praise of the city, the hospitality and the cathedral and certainly with such a large group of men of that caliber, the resultant effect upon New Castle is bound to be favorable.

Ill. William H. Dunlap, 33rd, commander-in-chief of the New Castle Consistory, is tired but satisfied today. In charge of all the activities during the reunion he was naturally faced with a gargantuan task, but to his credit and to the members of the fraternity who so ably assisted him, everything went off without a hitch. Ill. John S. Wallace, 33rd, who is the deputy for Pennsylvania for all Scottish Rite bodies, was equally pleased. While his authority extends to every part of Pennsylvania, yet the fact that New Castle is his home, and the fact that he has spent so many years in Masonic work here, pleases him when such a successful reunion is staged as was the one which closed Friday evening, October 19.

dition to the invitation extended by New Castle to come here next year for their annual convention, Allentown has also invited the librarians to convene there.

Name Officers.

The telegram received came from the two delegates who are attending the convention from this city. Those who represent New Castle are Miss Alice M. Sterling, city librarian and Mrs. S. D. Royce, secretary of the library association here.

At the business meeting which took place Friday, Dean Clifford Connelly of the Allegheny Carnegie Library was elected president, Miss Alice M. Sterling of the New Castle Public Library, vice president; Irma Watt of Harrisburg, secretary; and Harriet Root, of Bethlehem, treasurer.

While at the convention, Miss Sterling spoke at one of the sessions on "Branches and Hospital Libraries."

While the decision of naming the location of next year's convention has not been decided, it is thought that New Castle will have a very fine chance of getting the librarians here for the coming year.

GOVERNOR SMITH IS HEADING EAST; STOPS IN INDIANA

days he has been on the road continuously received everywhere by crowds such as political old-timers say have never turned out for any candidate for public office.

He enters Indiana today for his final bow in the middle west happy and confident. The Hoosier state has 15 electoral votes and Governor Smith believes he has a fine chance to capture them notwithstanding the traditional Republicanism of the state.

To Stop at Indianapolis.

At Indianapolis this afternoon, Governor Smith will stop for an hour perhaps two. He plans a call there on Thomas Taggart the veteran Democratic leader of the state who is ill, and a conference with a number of farm leaders that may be in the nature of a speech. The residents of Indianapolis will be a chance to glimpse the Brown Derby in one of the usual parades. Other stops will be made at Lafayette, Muncie and possibly Lebanon.

Considerable significance is attached to the meeting between Governor Smith and the farm leaders at Indianapolis who will be headed by Wm. H. Settle one of Hoover's bitterest assailants on the farm issue. Gov. Smith has been told that the Republican agriculturists in Indiana, who normally roll up big G. O. P. majorities are on the warpath this year. He is going to add fuel to the fire by telling them that they can take a personal message from him into their districts that if elected in November he is going into action immediately on the relief problem.

Governor Smith closed his speaking campaign in the west in Chicago last night with the most slashing attack he has yet made on the Republican record. He hit everything from farm relief to water power, and from the oil scandals to prohibition.

A vast crowd collected at the Illinois Central station as the presidential candidate and his party boarded the special train for Indianapolis. Gov. Smith waved to the milling thousands that had collected for a last glimpse of the New York chief executive.

ANTICIPATE HOOVER WILL REPLY TO SMITH

and by maintaining the tariff as a bulwark against cheaper standard of living abroad.

3.—Promote stability of employment by the same steps and by the expansion of foreign trade and the opening of new markets abroad.

To Reply to Smith

The Republican nominee undoubtedly will use his visit to New York to reply directly to at least one of the campaign issues raised by his Democratic rival, Governor Alfred E. Smith—the question of Republican economy. Hoover probably possesses a greater fount of governmental statistics, dealing with finances, than any other man in the Coolidge administration. He scarcely will fail to use this opportunity to explain how the Coolidge administration retired the public debt, reduced federal taxes and kept expenditures down, while the business of government was expanding side by side with all the rest of America.

Hoover may touch upon the question of governmental red tape. Earlier in the campaign he declared there were too many government bureaus overlapping each other. He told of initiating reforms in his own department of commerce and pledged himself to extend this reorganization to the rest of the government, if elected.

just as he throttled little Marion Parker to death ten months ago.

The post mortem examination also showed that he had sustained two blows on the head when he fell through the trap after he fainted on the gallows just as the trap was sprung.

There had been some dispute as to whether he fainted or whether he was thrown off balance when the noose was adjusted. Father Fleming, who conducted him to the gallows, declared today that he believed the "Fox" had swooned.

"I was with him in his cell when Warden Holohan came for him," Father Fleming said. "Hickman held out his hand and declared: 'See, it trembles a bit, but that is not from fear, I am not afraid.' And yet he fainted on the gallows."

Hickman, it was learned from a confidant, tested himself in a similar manner, after he had slain Marion Parker.

"I held out my hand to see if it trembled," Hickman told this confidant. "It didn't tremble".

Prison authorities believe that Hickman was strangled because he fainted. The drop was shortened when his legs caved from beneath him.

FOOLHARDY FLIGHT ATTEMPT

WITH several days elapsed and no trace of the British flier, Commander H. C. MacDonald, who hopped off from Harbor Grace in an effort to fly across the Atlantic, hope is given up for the aviator.

From all that can be learned of the case, this is perhaps the most foolhardy attempt that has as yet been made to make a non-stop flight across the Atlantic. It rates alongside some of the attempts made to reach the Hawaiian Islands last summer in the prize race.

The British flier was not a very experienced flier, had an inadequate plane for the effort, and was unaccustomed to night flying, according to reports that have been received since his unheralded hop-off.

Flying the Atlantic requires something more than pure nerve and courage. There appears to be no method of checking such attempts as that of Commander MacDonald, and probably never will be, but it is too bad that such individuals cannot be saved from themselves.

LIFE IS TOO SHORT

PROTECTION of American industries, prosperity and prohibition, all play a vital part in this campaign and are essential reasons why Herbert Hoover should be elected president of the United States. Protection and prosperity are one and the same.

That Herbert Hoover, due to his vast experience at home and abroad, is best fitted to administer the affairs of this country so American industries will be protected is generally accepted.

That Herbert Hoover, because of his close contacts with people and things, and his first-hand knowledge of what is required to continue prosperity, is the man the people need in the white house also is taken for granted.

Protection of American industry means a steady job for every man, and it means prosperity, which assures high wages and high standards of living to the men and women entitled to a fair share of that which by their labor is made possible.

So, when it comes down to the selection of a man for president of the United States, the big question that arises is one of fitness, and there is really no comparison between the two candidates. Hoover knows now what must be done and how to do it.

FOUR MILLION CAPITALISTS

JOSEPH S. McCOY, United States treasury actuary, estimates at 4,000,000 the "legion of capitalists" in the United States. One out of every thirty persons is the owner of corporate securities or bonds.

The number of stockholders has increased materially since the World War. Businesses have encouraged employes to buy stock in the concerns they work for on the theory that stockholders take a greater interest in the business. National prosperity has also accounted for the growth of the "legion of capitalists."

American stockholders are not all millionaires. Less than 7 per cent of the outstanding corporation stocks is held by millionaires, although 95 per cent of the wealthy obtain their income from stock dividends. There are some 100,000 widows solely dependent on stock dividends, and many orphans are cared for in the same manner.

The character and psychology of the two classes is reflected in the preference of the city dweller for stocks and of the rural resident for government bonds. The one is ever progressive and the other conservative in all things.

On the face of these figures and facts it is not surprising that labor troubles have been reduced to a minimum here. As long as American workers are privileged to share twice—through wages and dividends—in the earnings of their labor they will leave communism and socialism to dreaming drones.

The dogs of war would keep quiet if diplomats weren't so catty.

Chrysler Builds High.
Mr. Rockefeller's News.
Cottages $1.10 Per Week.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

The earth is beautiful and its best real estate corners are valuable, some in New York worth $500 a square foot and more.

But New York's corner of Broad and Wall street itself isn't worth as much per foot as a piece of canvas after a good artist has finished with it.

Walter P. Chrysler, whose stockholders ought to insure his life, since it would be difficult to replace him, does first one thing, then another, without waiting between.

Now he is building a 68-story office building in the middle of Manhattan, to cost $14,000,000.

More power to him and all that go up high into the air, giving architectural and building genius a chance.

More power also to S. W. Straus, man of vision, whose company lends $7,500,000 on the new building.

Mr. Rockefeller turned oil, plus business ability, and, as he said, "patience and economy," into one of the world's great fortunes.

Now he turns that fortune into something worth more than gold, namely, PUBLIC HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

The Rockefeller Institute announces a "convalescent serum" giving wonderful results in infantile paralysis. Slowly science conquers disease, as knowledge conquers superstition.

The British Viscountess Byng, of Vimy, unlocked with a silver key the doors of newly built four-room cottages. They cost $750 each, and she rents them for $1.10 a week.

As she unlocked each door the countess, following an old custom, threw in a loaf of bread and a lump of coal that the tenant might never lack food or warmth.

The countess will get more than 6 per cent on her investment. Why couldn't that be done in our mining regions, for instance?

Just to show the Bears that this is no time to sell short, stocks and Bulls in Wall street did all sorts of things Thursday.

Some stocks shot up $30 a share. And sad Bears were heard to murmur: "I shall wait until every on the list passes $200 before I ever sell anything again, and then I won't sell."

The fact that this is a PROSPEROUS country, with all due respect to Democrats that call our prosperity a myth.

And while you should NEVER gamble, since it is both wrong and unprofitable, you should be extra careful not to sell short.

Wise spending is at least as important as wise saving, and often more profitable.

For instance, before the Panama Canal was built, before this country had learned to spend billions, many shivered at the thought of a $300,000,000 enterprise. Since 1914 that canal has collected in tolls $193,307,727.

It will pay for itself many times, in addition to more than doubling the value of the United States Navy and promoting the shipping interests of the whole world.

For the first time in 70 years Italy has executed a criminal. The Italian method is to shut a man up for life in solitary confinement, seeing no one, talking to no one, containers of food pushed into the cell by a man that the prisoner does not see.

Michele Della Maggiore, convicted of killing to Fascists, should be grateful that he was shot yesterday.

Death, which some Christian Scientists call "The valley of illusion," is not a thing to fear, solitary imprisonment is horrible.

In Little Rock, Ark., they don't believe in evolution.

And in Little Rock, Charles Smith, "President of the American Association for Advancement of Atheism," is foolish enough to say that he doesn't believe in God. In fact, he was found with a placard reading, "Evolution is true. The Bible is a lie. God is a ghost."

Some folks do not understand the electoral vote. Each state has so many electoral votes. If the Republicans carry a state they automatically acquire all the electoral votes. And by the same token if the Democrats carry Pennsylvania which they will not by several jugfuls, they will get all the electoral votes. You do not vote direct for president. You vote for electors who vote for the president.

We are opposed to sentencing cowardly murderers to life imprisonment because a sentence of that kind means only a few years in the pen. When they are executed society is safe for all time from that source.

Of course women can stand more suffering. Think what mere cornsilk cigarettes did to young male amateurs.

We take some solace in the fact that politicians continue to talk about honesty. It proves that they have not forgotten it entirely.

DOWN TOWN BRIDGES

A few days ago we stated in this column that we would like to know what good effect the contemplated North street bridge would have on traffic. A letter has been received on account of that publication evidently decrying that location and naming another on Lawrence street. Personally we cannot see any good of a bridge on Lawrence street either. In order to relieve through traffic in New Castle a bridge will have to be built that will take the traffic around the city, either across the south end or the North end. We would like to see any plan that will beat that suggestion. We say again the traffic will always be where it is until taken from the place it is and the bridge at North street or Lawrence street will not take it from the congested districts nowhow. The letter follows:

To New Castle News:
Gentlemen:

In your issue of Oct. 17 we note you are wondering what effect the North street bridge will have on the down town traffic. We have some citzens in that vicinity that could possibly enlighten you as they stated very positively at the Lawrence Street Bridge hearing what effect this bridge would have on traffic. Some of them stated at this hearing that we had no traffic congestion at our bridges. It has been a puzzle to some of the taxpayers who are interested in traffice conditions and in civic welfare, just why we should pay for a competent traffic engineer to come here and tell us how to relieve traffic conditions and then have those in authority do directly opposite from what he advised at the expense of a costly approach and dredging the creek and removing dams and what not, when they could put in the bridge the engineer advised without this expense, as the city already had the approaches and there would be no dredging. No doubt we who favored the Lawrence street bridge would be satisfied if we just knew why this was done or who is really responsible for the North street bridge. Personally it looks to me as though we were going to put traffic congestion in the vicinity of our East street school. Thanking you for your valuable space, I ramain,

Sincerely yours,
E. F. KNOBLOCH

Big Registration Foreshadows Record Balloting In November

All Sections Of Country Report Unusual Voting Lists; Most Of The Newcomers Believed To Be Women

Unprecedented registration figures reported from all sections of the country give rise to much editorial speculation as to the part that will be played in the presidential election this year by new voters and former stay-at-homes. It is generally assumed that most of the additions to the rolls are women and that a record national vote is in prospect.

"Never in the world's history," as viewed by the Providence Bulletin, "has there been anything like the promised expression of popular will. Seldom if ever in our own history has the aroused electorate displayed such widespread interest. In 1924 there were 29,000,000 votes cast. We shall better that amazing total this year by several millions. Ideal democracy for a body politic of such vast and heterogeneous proportions as that of the United States is impossible of attainment. But we approach it closely enough to catch glimpses of its form in such demonstrations as November promises."

The Oklahoma City Times feels that "the diligence with which registration is pushed may even prove the deciding factor in the campaign," and states that, while there are new arrivals in Oklahoma, "most of the thousands who have merely neglected registration are women."

"These new voters have never expressed themselves at the polls. How are they going to vote? What are they interested in? What is causing them to come out in such numbers with the very evident purpose of casting their ballots on November 6?" asks the St. Paul Dispatch. "These questions are worrying the politicians. Spell-binders are making frenzied efforts, this month, to convince the women that their cause is the holy one and deserving of feminine support. Women this year are going to justify the Nineteenth Amendment. They are going to assume their share of the responsibility of government."

Declaring that "this year there is a race and no walkover," the New York Times views the situation as one in which "there is something and somebody salient to vote for or against." The Times continues: "This is the real 'silent vote' that will not break its silence till election day. Then our ears will no longer be deafened by the trumpets of prediction. Nobody knows, and one man's guess is as good and bad as another's. The swollen registration should at least convince the excellent persons who are always bewailing that so many million persons don't vote as often as the excellent persons think they should, that there will be voters enough when there is enough to stir them deeply. Whoever is buried under the snowflakes that fall, * * * there is a great awakening and quickening of the American people."

"Participation in primaries and elections—and in particular elections—gives notice," according to the Utica Observer-Dispatch, "that the people are awake and are watchful of their interests. It is as true of public business as it is of private business. The watchful director in bank or industrial corporation, the stockholder in any enterprise who wants to know and take account of quarterly reports, the individual who makes inquiry as to the whys and wherefores of steps in the progress of his local administrations, and who gives an intelligent and unbiased vote in national political contests, is doing large service for those who are associated with him in either finance, enterprise or government. The wider this watchfulness and participation extends, the better for all concerned."

Discussing the situation in Chicago, the Daily News of that city declares: "No one issue was responsible for the huge gains in registration. There is unusually keen interest in the presidential nominees and what they stand for, and hardly less interest in the state campaign."

Similarly the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, pointing to the very great increase in that city, draws the conclusion: "The importance of civic duty in the coming national election is no white greater than is the interest in good local government for every man or woman in the city eligible to vote."

The Springfield Republican states: "While party workers may be credited with the results in Massachusetts in part, it is generally believed that they can be fully accounted for only by the heightened public interest in this campaign, as compared with the several preceding campaigns."

"It looks as if the pedestals were being pulled out from under the pompous figures which have set so much store by themselves as shepherds of the party flocks," in the judgment of the Baltimore Sun. "Perhaps, after all, they are only figurines. When something that really concerns and interests the people arises, they brush these politicians rudely aside and proceed to attend to the matter themselves." The Binghamton Press remarks: "That a part of the increased registration is due to growth of population may be believed, but this factor does not account for all the increase. The unusual interest aroused in the campaign probably is chiefly responsible for the outpouring."

"The politicians, in trying to calculate the women's vote, are dealing with a relatively unknown quality," remarks the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, while the New York Sun records that "the politicians have come face to face with something they admit they cannot analyze," and the New York World advises that "politicians who figure on votes will have new bases of reckoning to deal with in the future."

Speaking of the condition which seems to have been remedied so far as this year's election is concerned, the Rochester Democrat-Chronicle says: "One of the most serious defects of our form of government, one that drives thoughtful leaders to despair, is the indifference which a large portion of the population feels towards its obligation to vote. Even in presidential elections, scarcely more than half the eligible voters take the trouble to vote. The 'silent vote,' made up of stay-at-homes who shirk their responsibilities, while enjoying all the privileges of a democratic government, would be sufficient to change completely the result of an election."

FIGHTING IDEAS

A story is told of a crowd gathered around a speaker in Trafalgar Square, London. The police were protecting him. An American asked an English bystander what the row was about.

"Oh," said the Englishman, "he's attackin' the Royal family and the Bobbies are protectin' him."

We have found out in these days of democracy that about the best way to deal with a disturber of the peace is to give him a hall and a chance to speak. For a Bolshevist or a class maniac to have full liberty to express his ideas is suicidal. He thrives upon repression.

In that strange town of London, the strange inhabitant Britishers are doing a strange thing.

On one street the socialist book store sells, to everyone who will buy, volumes spreading the doctrines of socialism.

Around the corner a group of men have established an Anti-Socialist book store, which sells books fighting tooth and nail the ideas of its rival.

It would be interesting to know what Geoffrey Chaucer, of Canterbury Tales fame, would think of this arrangement.

In his day, five centuries ago, men had a far different idea of the way to settle disputed points than by a battle of books.

Included in the meager details of his recorded life is an account of his being robbed twice on the same day by the same two men.

The culprits were captured, each declared himself innocent and said the other had committed the robbery.

Justice seemed at a standstill until a brilliant idea of the judge settled the question with manifest justice to all.

The two men were given clubs.

The one who knocked the other unconscious was innocent.

The one who was knocked down was hanged.

It has taken a good many centuries to disentangle, even partially, justice from brute force, to see that physical strength and moral right are not synonymous.

The skeins are still snarled in international relations.

But progress has been made.

What would have been a joke a few hundred years ago is accepted as a serious proposition in 1928 London.

Fighting ideas on the plane of ideas is becoming more common.

Settling the justice of an affront by two men shooting bullets at each other has little standing in civilized society today.

The most ignorant and unfit to lead are always the most disposed to violence. They find it easier to use their fists than their heads successfully and follow the path of least resistance.

Supplanting the rival bludgeons with rival ideas and bashed heads with books is the work of civilization.

Over $20,000 In Community Chest

Advance Gifts Committee Adds $3,200 To Total At Friday's Meeting

LOVE ASKS TEAMS TO WORK HARDER

Advance gifts committees of the Community Chest reported $3,200 at the meeting on Friday, October 19, in the board room of the Chamber of Commerce, bringing the total advance gifts to date to slightly more than $20,000. With another week to work the committees announced their intentions of making next week the most fruitful of the campaign.

Members of the committees were inspired and given a renewed enthusiasm by General Chairman Robert C. Love, who addressed them at the meeting. Mr. Love told them some plain facts in a straightforward manner and asked the teams to go out and work harder than they have ever done before.

"This is a campaign," said Mr. Love. "A few refusals or turn down is not going to stop it; it is the final ultimate goal that we are working for, and we can reach it if we will to do it. People say they are hard-up. That is always an excuse given many times in every campaign, yet we know that the sales of luxuries in the United States are increasing every year; we know that several auto agencies in this city have had the best years in their history the past year; so we know that people are spending more than ever before. All of us have places for our money, but we must maintain these institutions. They are an investment in humanity, and to care is to give, and I am confident that the people of New Castle will give as they have in the past."

Mr. Love's brief address was heartily applauded and had a very cheering and direct effect upon the members of the committees.

The next report meeting will be held on Monday, October 22, at 4:30 in the Chamber of Commerce directors' room.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Now that all of the dignitaries and officials have left town, and the flurry of the Scottish Rite reunion is over, we can all get back to the old job with renewed vigor. It was nice to have all of them here, and you may be interested to know that they really had a splendid time. New Castle is the gainer for having had them here, and the men in authority of the New Castle Consistory are to be congratulated upon getting them here.

Being the governor of the state is a most honorable post, one that is next only to the presidency, and yet there are many things that must be an annoyance at times. Every time a governor goes out there are always crowds of people want to shake his hand, ask him questions and rush him off his feet.

The present governor of Pennsylvania, John S. Fisher, must have a disposition that is always on an even keel. Courteous and dignified, he always seems to have time to pass a kind word with strangers and to sit down for a time and hear him discuss the early days of his career reminds you that here is a chap who appreciates his high office but does not forget that he was not always the governor.

He is just another example of the oft repeated phrase that "the bigger they are, the easier they are to talk to."

A rather amusing thing occurred out in front of the Cathedral. A stranger rushed through the crowd to where John S. Wallace was standing. Mr. Wallace bears a marked resemblance to Governor Fisher and this chap apparently got mixed a bit. Grasping Mr. Wallace by the hand he said "governor I want to meet you, my name is————." In the confusion Mr. Wallace did not hear the beginning of the sentence and assumed that the man wanted to see him. After a short talk the man walked away, satisfied that he had had a nice chat with the chief executive.

The roaming colyum is rather short today for the very good reason that the roaming was confined to a rather restricted area. But this afternoon now, that's something else again. Hold that line New Castle.

Take Precaution To Prevent Escape Of Paul Jaworski

Famous Killer Will Be Transfered From Cleveland To Pittsburgh Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—With every precaution taken to prevent any attempt at liberating Paul Jaworski, Pennsylvania gang leader and killer, two more detectives today were to join the guard which is to bring Jaworski back from Cleveland to face a probable death sentence for murder.

Although their plans are shrouded in secrecy, it is understood here that Jaworski will be removed from Cleveland tonight. Chief County Detective George W. Murren and four detectives will make up the guard, while other officers stand guard at all railroad stations both here and in Cleveland to make sure there is no massing of gangsters to make a delivery attempt.

Murren did not reveal whether he would come by train or auto with his prisoner, and there is even understood to be a possibility that the Jaworski party will arrive by plane. Deputy sheriffs are expected to patrol the roads from Cleveland to Pittsburgh. Jaworski, convicted payroll guard murderer, shot his way out of Allegheny county jail last year.

Healing Natural, Says Evangelist

Many Are Healed At Everybody's Tabernacle At Friday Services

TO HAVE SPECIAL SERVICE SATURDAY

That God, that the blessings of God are not confined alone to the things of the spirit, but that His power can be manifested physically and temporarily, was the text of a sermon on divine healing, preached Friday evening at Everybody's Tabernacle at Mill and Friendship streets by Evangelist C. H. Erickson, who has been conducting services there for several weeks.

Many Healed.

At the close of the service fully 25 persons who were afflicted in some way or other, were helped to the platform and Mr. Erickson, with his wife, prayed for them, and anointed them. Not one left the platform without in some way being benefited, they said. One lady, aged 75 years, who has walked with a cane for a long time because of rheumatism, was able to walk down from the platform without her cane.

Spirit a Person.

Taking for his text the fourth chapter of Philippians, the 19th verse, which reads: "But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Jesus Christ," Mr. Erickson pointed out that the present day tendency is to pay more attention to the spiritual blessings of God and not to think enough of the temporal and physical wonders that He can work.

"The Holy Spirit is a person," he declared, "and if the Bible says that the Holy Spirit can heal the body, it means that the Holy Spirit can heal the body, and if the Bible says that the Holy Spirit can heal the soul, it means that the Holy Spirit can heal the soul. According to the scripture God can give spiritual, temporal and physical things. The soul is more important than the body, but God will give temporal and physical blessings also.

God is Same.

"God is the same today as He was almost 2,000 years ago. If He could bring spiritual and temporal and physical blessings then, He has the same power now. And in the Bible it shows how God gave temporal blessings to His children: it shows the almost supernatural way in which He helped His children. He does the supernatural in the natural way. He controls the universe. He controls the elements which make up the universe. We have drifted so far away from God that we think His miracles are an impossibility, but if we understood, if we understand, His miracles are natural, perfectly natural.

"Jesus healed everyone who was sick. He never turned anyone down. He even raised the dead. Christ was a special revelation of the will of God for all time, and it is shown by the way he healed.

Have Confidence.

"Have confidence in the will of God," Mr. Erickson concluded, "and the spiritual, temporal and physical blessings will come. You must see the great Father Heart of God. You must give your will to God. Don't ask Him for mercy when you reject Him. Give up your sins and come to Him with an open heart. Accept Him and you have it all."

At the end of the service close to 20 people answered the altar call, confessing Jesus Christ as their personal Savior.

A special request program will be given at the tabernacle Saturday evening by the Alliance colored quintet.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30, Mr. Erickson will speak on "The Holy Spirit." Sunday evening services are scheduled for 7:30. There will be no services Monday. Tuesday the morning services will be resumed and Tuesday evening Mr. Erickson again will speak on divine healing.

Fellow Rotarian:

While we are not having Chris Coulthard speak we are having a man who probably knows at least as much about traffic as the nice men who spoke last week and we believe Fred will agree with us when we announce as the speaker, Captain Mauk, Troop D, Pennsylvania State constabulary.

Our club is scattered to the four points of the compass. Herman Hess attended Erie Rotary. Al Chilton at Gastonia, N. C., Scott Paisley at Los Angeles, Cal., Doc Blackwood at Vienna.

P. H. C. PARTY GREAT SUCCESS

Hallowe'en Program Is Much Enjoyed By Large Crowd

The opening series of parties held by New Castle Circle No. 5 P. H. C. for the Winter season, was ushered in on Thursday night with a large attendance of members and their friends. And the committee in charge of this the first masquerade of the season are to be congratulated upon the success of their effort for a night of fun and frolic from start to finish of the event.

The Circle chamber in its Hallowe'en dress presented a grotesque and attractive picture in its elaborate appearance and with an excellent orchestra, the jolly crowd enjoyed the opening part of the series until a late hour.

It would be impossible for the writer to describe the costumes of the mummers as they are beyond description, beautiful in design were many of the costumes and characters represented, while those along humorous lines kept every one guessing. During the evening Hallowe'en refreshments were served and prizes awarded for the best costumes on the floor.

The judges appointed in this difficult undertaking were Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Julio Miller and Ed Nolan, who, after much deliberation awarded the door prize in gold to Maude Zeigler. Cash prizes were then awarded for best make ups to Mrs. George Cromwell, Clare Badger Mrs. Zentz, and the Misses Irma Halboth, Betty Kehnar, Madeline Frye and Leona Southern. It is the desire of the committee to continue these social events frequently throughout the season and wish to express their appreciation for the large attendance and successful affair of Thursday night.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE MYSTERY OF THE MARSH.

"Cormorant was very happy to have found his old friend.

"'I don't at all mind looking at you now, Darter! I can see your wings and your pretty green feathers, but I can never become used to the way you glide about in the water with your body all covered up and only your long snaky neck showing above the surface. Brr! It makes me shiver!

"'It really is a wonder that long before this some Two-Legs has not mashed your head with a stone, they hate sea-serpents so and that is exactly what you look like.

"'Or perhaps one might take you for an eel a great fat eel that was standing on the tip of his tail and floating around just on purpose to scare folks.

"'You are the mystery of the marsh. No stranger could guess just who or what you were. But to change the subject, where is your nest this year? I didn't have a chance to visit you before I went on my travels you know.'

"'Right over yonder on the lowest branch of that old tree,' replied Darter, craning his neck and pointing out the spot with his long sharp bill. We think that we have a pretty fine location and although as simple as can be the house just suits us.

"'My how mad I was at a Gull the other day! He actually said that our house was no good at all—nothing but a lot of old sticks thrown together. Wasn't that mean of him? To be sure our house is made of sticks—wife and I go out every spring and gather them for that very purpose and it takes a lot of them too, I can tell you. You would certainly say so if you once tried to find enough to make the nest the right size and shape!

"'The very idea of Gull saying a thing like that! One would think he built a mansion to hear him talk and truth to tell, his old house is not one bit more handsome than ours.

"'Good gracious, did you hear that cry? That sounded like my wife's voice. I wonder if anything has happened to the babies. I must glide home and find out. I'll see you later.

"Down into the water dropped Darter, without making a bit of noise. Scarcely a ripple marked the spot where he had struck the surface. Off he scurried, writhing his head in that snaky manner that well as he knew his friend, made Cormorant quiver to the very tip of his tail fathers.

President Coolidge In Fredericksburg Speech Hoists Prosperity Flag

Tells Southerners At Memorial Dedication Of "Prosperity At Hand"

Compares Commodities Of Life Between 1860 And Our Present Day; Answers Smith

By GEORGE E. DURNO,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 20.—President Coolidge hoisted the banner of prosperity above the nation and the Republican administration here Friday in a manner which generally was interpreted as an answer to the recent attacks of Governor Al Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Going to Virginia to play the leading role in the dedication of the memorial to the battlefields of Fredericksburg, the wilderness, Spotsylvania, and Chancellorsville—bloodiest of the conflicts of the Civil war—Mr. Coolidge devoted more than half of his speech to the opulence of the national pocketbook and the serenity of the people.

Prosperity Big Thing

The address fairly breathed prosperity. The United States today, he said, is enjoying a "general standard of living never before experienced by any people in human history."

Without taking any direct cognizance of Smith's challenge to Herbert Hoover and the Republican party to prove that the country was being run economically and prosperously, the president nevertheless went straight down the line in cataloging America's assets and claims to world leadership commercially and industrially.

Because of the nature of the ceremonies, the executive compared the present with the Civil war period, quoted 1860 figures as against 1928. National wealth which was then sixteen billions is now 350 billions, he said. Foreign trade has grown from $785,000,000 to more than $9,000,000,000. Railroad mileage has increased from 31,000 to about 249,000, and its revenues from $153,000,000 to $6,250,000,000. Manufactured products have jumped from less than two billions to nearly 63 billions. Farm products have gone from less than $2,500,000,000 to about $13,000,000,000.

"So great has been our enterprise and industry," Mr. Coolidge declared, "That with only 7 per cent of the land and 6 per cent of the population of the world, we produce over 50 per cent of the grains and basic raw materials."

Many Wealthy Men

The president acknowledged that in this country there are many individuals of vast wealth, but this situation, he said, will continue "So long as men are free and enterprise and ambition exist".

"The millions of our people who are investors in securities, the $27,500,000,000 of deposits in savings institutions, which have more than doubled in nine years, the $7,200,000,000 of assets of building and loan associations, which have more than trebled since 1919, the widespread individual ownership of homesteads, the possession of 23,000,000 motor vehicles, of which 20,000,000 are passengers cars, the general use of the telephone and radio, the constantly increasing rate of wages even when the price of commodities has been declining, and the general standard of living never before experienced by any people in human history all testify that under free institutions and equality of opportunity the distribution of wealth is solving itself in accordance with natural laws, he said.

Growth of South

Dealing with the growth of the south since the Civil war, the president found much of which to boast.

"In the southern states alone the wealth, the manufactured, the mineral, and the farm products, the banking resources, and the exports are of about the same value today that they were in the whole United States in 1900," he pointed out. "The yearly production of the farms, the mines, and the mills exceeds $18,000,000 while construction contracts run about $1,000,000,000."

Inland waterways likewise were touched upon.

"Our national expenditures and authorizations for inland waterways have run into hundreds of millions of dollars," he declared. "Some of this in the Mississippi valley has already been demonstrated to the commercially profitable. The waterborne traffic on the Great Lakes has reached the enormous total of 116,000,000 tons in a single season. Plans are being made for a deep channel-waterway from the Great Lakes to the sea.

Tom Mix At The Regent Theatre

Portrays Ridin', Fightin', Thrills Of Early Pioneer Days

Surrounded by all the glamour and picturesquesness of the old West in the days when Indians and gangs of "bad men" battled with the pioneers who followed the "overland trail" across the Rockies, Tom Mix and his faithful "Tony" can be seen at the Regent Theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 22, 23, 24, in "Son of the Golden West". This is absolutely the first picture Tom Mix and his wonder horse "Tony" has made for F. B. O. Film Corp. since leaving the Fox Film Corp.

Departing in a degree from the cow boy roles in which the western star has become world-famous, Tom portrays in this dashing photoplay a "pony express" rider—one of the daredevils who carried the mails and treasure across the trackless plains and through mountain passes infested by hostile redskins in the days before the railroad penetrated the wilderness.

Sharon Lynn, screen beauty and actress of distinction, plays the feminine lead and others in the supporting cast, beside the riders who add so much color to the picture, are Tom Lingham, Duke R. Lee, Lee Shumway, Fritzi Ridgeway, Lole Ray, Mark Hamilton and Wynn Mace.

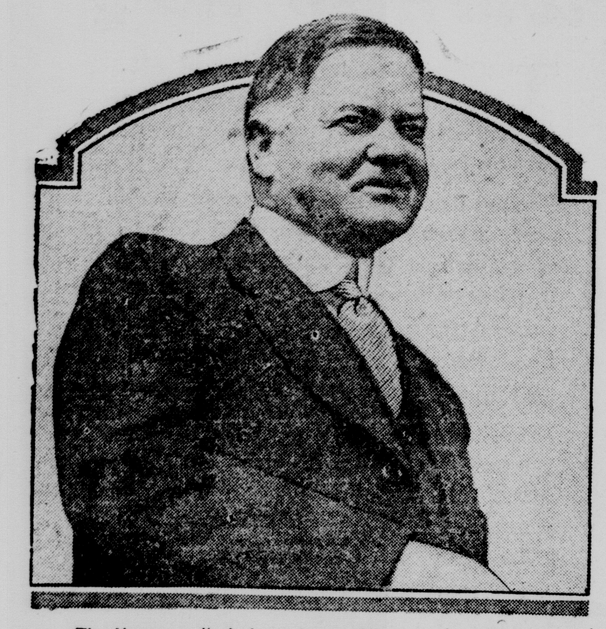
HOOVER SMILE



The Hoover smile is becoming as famous in the present campaign as the T. R. grin did in an earlier one. The Republican candidate is shown here responding to the welcome given him in Elizabethton, Tenn.

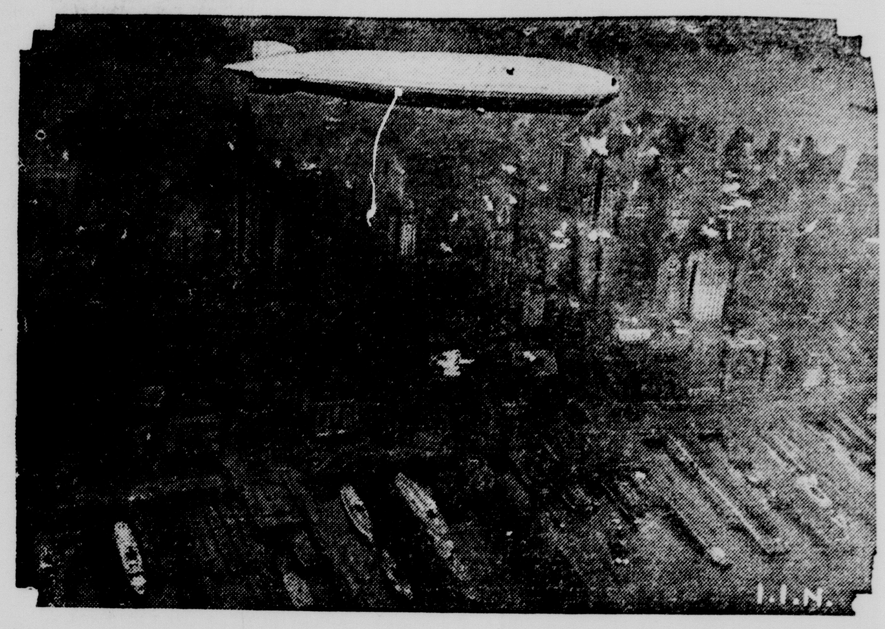
A wildly enthusiastic crowd turned out despite the rain to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover on their arrival in Elizabethton, Tenn. The picture shows a portion of the parade.

A Zep's Eye View of New York



With a final, triumphant flourish, the Graf Zeppelin, piloted by Commander Hugo Eckener, danced over New York City in the gathering dusk of a perfect autumn day. Here is the great bag etched in the sky against the canyons of the financial district just before it nosed for Lakehurst, N. J., and the end of a memorable flight.

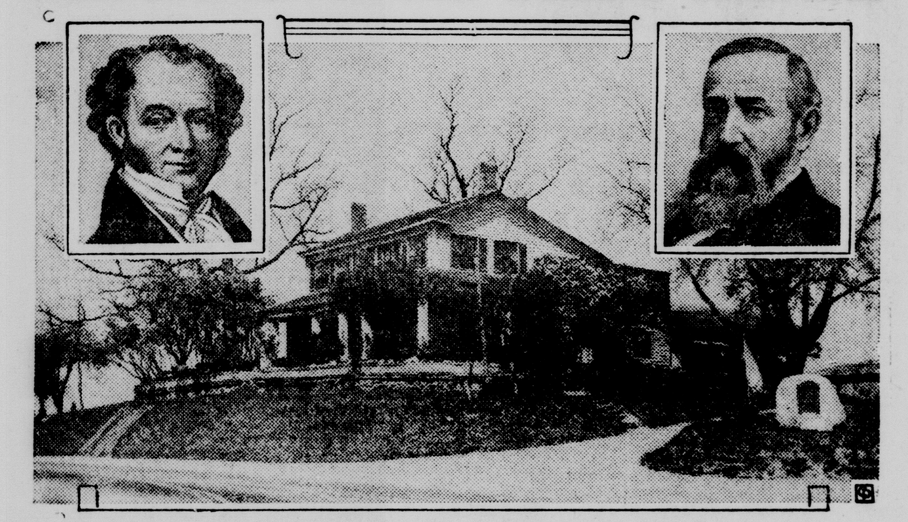
WHERE OUTDOOR POLITICAL "SPEAKING" ORIGINATED



On a hillside near the historic old Walker tavern, shown above, at Brooklyn, Mich., the first outdoor political mass meeting in the United States was held 88 years ago. It was during the campaign between Martin Van Buren and William Henry Harrison for the presidency that Thomas Ewing spoke at this spot in behalf of Harrison. The idea of open-air meetings struck the popular fancy and soon outdoor political rallies became numerous.

TOWN BOASTS BOTH CANDIDATES

"Howdy, Al," and "Hello, Herbert," are the greetings when these two Tiffin, O., men meet. Scott Garrett, left, has been taken for Governor Alfred E. Smith when away from Tiffin, and Dr. W. H. Benner, right, has created a stir on trains when the word was passed that Herbert Hoover was aboard. Both are Republicans, however.

The Zep "Speaks" a Ship at Sea

One of the biggest thrills for Graf Zeppelin voyagers was that of "speaking" a mere surface liner in mid-ocean. This exclusive photo was taken by Robert Hartmann, MGM News and International Newsreel staff cameraman, the only photographer aboard the monster air liner.

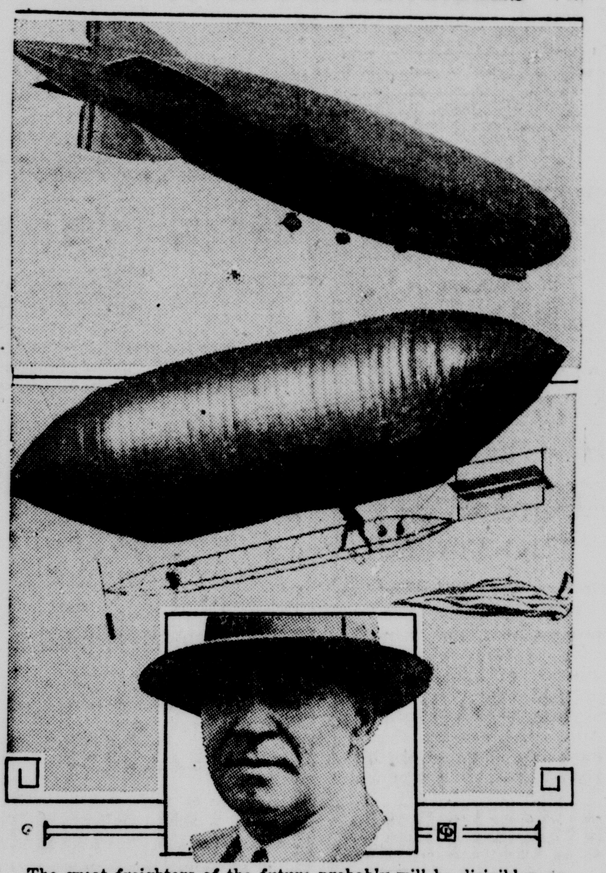
SEES FUTURE FOR DIRIGIBLES



The great freighters of the future probably will be dirigibles, according to Roy Knabenshue, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been experimenting with airships since 1909. Knabenshue believes the airplane and blimp have separate fields in which to develop as air carriers. Above is the Los Angeles, giant dirigible, in contrast to Knabenshue's racing dirigible of 1909 shown below, showing the great development in this type of air craft. Inset is of Knabenshue.

On the Inside Looking Out

An unusual view taken from inside the Navy's great hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., showing part of the dirigible Los Angeles in her berth and the side of the Graf Zeppelin just outside the door. The big air liner was moored to the mast instead of being walked into the hangar because of the lateness of her arrival.

Household Arts Clubs At Franklin Launch Activities For 1928-29

Student organizations of the household arts department of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school met for their second session this week. Those included are the boys' cooking club, the etiquette club, the serving club and the girls' handiwork club.

Faculty supervisors of the different organizations declare that interest is rampant in each group. Practical suggestions are given and experimented on during the meetings. The next meeting will occur Wednesday, Oct. 31, although regular meetings are usually held every two weeks.

Supervisors of the various organizations are as follows:

Etiquette Club—Miss Ruth Wallace.

Serving Club—Miss Thelma Howell

Girls' Handiwork Club—Miss Ann Rice.

"In the etiquette group", says Miss Wallace, "we endeavor to demonstrate the correct methods of introducing persons to others, correct table manners and in general to teach them how they should act while at home at school and other places." Girls of the ninth grade compose the organization, which is planning a busy year's program just now. "We try to make our club just as interesting as we can", the supervisor concluded.

The Serving Club, according to Miss Gress, functions when faculty luncheons and dinners are served. They are responsible for serving the food. 9B and 9A girls comprise the membership.

"A really interesting organization is the Boys' Cooking Club, which opened its fall activities this week when the members served griddle cakes." This was the statement of Miss Howell, who supervises the lads in their work, and who should know better than she? "The boys are real cooks. Their cakes were made without any trouble and apparently tasted fine, for they were here the next day, just as usual," Miss Howell added. The club intends to specialize on camp cooking this year.

The Girls' Handiwork Club occupies its time in making useful things. They are planning now for the Christmas season. Miss Rice states that election of officers has already occurred and that complete organization has been accomplished. They expect to make all sorts of things.

These four student activities of the household arts department are attempting to train the members in household duties and manners and are organizations that will undoubtedly increase the interest and add immeasurably to the knowledge of those who are enrolled.

Local Organization Offers Noteworthy Service To District

Red Cross Chapter Renders Exceptional Health Aid To Community

Remarkable service is being rendered by the public health nursing department of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross, under the direction of the chapter nurse, Miss Kathryn A. Hite.

The public in general knows but little concerning the activities of this phase of Red Cross work. Residents hear of little that is being done among the needy and sick of the district, but records of the organization show that its effort along this line of service has been tremendous over a period of many years.

Pat J. Dempsey, executive secretary of the New Castle organization, has the following to say concerning public health service:

"The department's service is available to all. While a small fee is charged to those who can afford to pay, those who absolutely cannot afford to meet the costs are given the service free of charge. It is felt that a great number of people do not understand this phase of Red Cross work. It is desired that the public become better acquainted with the work as winter is just ahead. Through this period the need is greater than during the other nine months.

"The chapter's nurse works in close co-operation and has the endorsement of local physicians. It is the desire to extend the service to the maximum and it is hoped that the general public will take advantage of it. The local Red Cross office is always ready to give aid to those who will call headquarters, Bell 2697."

Kenneth Hood son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hood of New Castle, and a junior at the Pennsylvania State College was elected as a delegate to the National Grange meeting to take place in Washington, D. C. November 14-23 by the Penn State Grange at its recent meeting.

Two delegates were chosen to represent the student grange in Washington this year, the other member being Miss Annette Kryder a junior at the college from Mill Hall.

During their stay at the Capital City the students will attend the second annual meeting of the Student Grange conference which is being held in conjunction with the national meeting November 13-15. The student organization was formed a year ago to meet the needs of young rural and student grangers, by Walter C. Gumbel also of New Castle and a senior at the college.

In addition to attending the two conferences the delegates will be given an opportunity to view the capitol building and other places of interest.

Hood during his three years in college has achieved many scholastic honors, being an honor student in his class, a member of the varsity debating team and an enthusiastic worker for the Penn State bond issue, having presented several speeches in various granges during the past summer.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Last third of October is expected to average better than usual cropweather, furnishing favorable weather for finishing late northern harvest, general farm work and an open period to give a good start to fall sown grains. Temperatures of this period will average above normal and, excepting the last three days of month, precipitation will average below normal. A storm wave of mild intensity of force will cross continent during week centering on 23, but will be of little importance other than to cause better than normal cropweather. Storm wave expected to cross continent during week centering on 30 will be of very severe intensity, the most severe of month, and will cause heavy general precipitation, unusually warm period and severe storms over the continent in general. While this period will not be pleasant, it will be of great value, as it will furnish the principal subsoil moisture for the coming winter; areas that do not get the moisture of this period will fare badly as to winter grains. Period of above normal temperatures that will accompany storm wave centering on 30 will continue several days into November and make a period generally known as an Indian summer.

Cropweather forecasts of general November features will appear in next weekly bulletin. Moon phases of the near future occur as follows: Full October 28, last quarter November 4, new 12, first quarter 20, full 27, last quarter December 4.

The most important economical problem that confronts the American public today is a system that will afford the farmer, agriculturist or whatever name that may be applied to the millions of men who produce something for us to eat and wear with a just return for their labors. In large areas of Russia and China today there are millions of people starving; drouth, locusts, hail, army worms, early frosts and other plagues have made conditions that have reduced the productive possibilities of these areas far below what would be necessary to furnish the present population with necessary food. At the same time, North America has raised the largest crop of feed for her people and feed for her animals in history. Thru the mechanism of the Canadian pools, Canada has marketed her huge crop of 1927 and part of her carryover from 1926 at a profit to her farmers; the United States politicians are at the same time trying to boost prices of farm products to a level that would do credit to the party in power. All living standards of North America are far above those of any other country of the globe, yet our farm products sell far below the general average price of the same products in importing countries whose living standards are far below those of North America. This travesty is explained as necessary in order that North American products will be on an export basis. This system does not consider the cost of production of farm products, the actual value of farm products relative to world supply and demand. There is no doubt but hat export hedging and professional trading causes greater fluctuations in prices of farm products than does supply and demand, but such price changes are only temporary, while those established by supply and demand rule and are steady. Prices of American farm products should not be made in accordance with European conditions.

Northcotts Are Ordered Returned To Face Charges

Mrs. Louisa Northcott And Son Gordon Ordered Returned To California

CANADIAN JUDGE DECIDES IN CASE

(International News Service)

CALGARY, Alta., Canada, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Louisa Northcott, mother of Gordon Stewart Northcott and his asserted accomplice in the alleged ax slaying of little Walter Collins at the Riverside, California "murder farm," was today ordered extradited to the United States.

Mrs. Northcott will be returned to California where she will face charges of murder in connection with four child-murders.

After reading affidavits made by Stanford Clark, 15, nephew of Northcott, which cited the alleged murders of four boys, Judge Simms declared that a prima facie case of murder had to be made out and that he ordered both Northcott and his mother to be taken to California to stand trial.

Meanwhile, it was reported that, Mrs. Christine Collins, mother of Walter Collins, said to have been one of the "murder farm" victims brought suit against the city of Los Angeles for half a million dollars damages on the ground of false arrest.

Mrs. Collins alleges that she was incarcerated in a psycopathic ward because she refused to admit that one Arthur Hutchins, since proved an imposter, was her missing son.

Supt. Syling Talks To Butler People On Consolidation

Winfield Township Favors Building But Are Not Agreed Upon A Site

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, was at Cabot, a small village in Winfield township, Butler county, last night where he made an address showing the advantages of the consolidated school building. Superintendent Syling went at the request of County Superintendent John T. Connell of Butler county.

Superintendent Syling found that a somewhat unique situation exists in Winfield township. Cabot is located on one side of the township and Winfield, another village on the other. The people of the township are generally in favor of a consolidated building but they have not come to an agreement on location.

The Cabot people want it in Cabot. Winfield people while not insisting on having the school building in their own district think that it is asking too much to have their children taken to Cabot. A location about one mile from Cabot in the direction of Winfield is being discussed. This will be satisfactory to the Winfield people, but the Cabot people seem to want the building on the outskirts of their village. The matter is to be decided at the coming election.

Senders Of False Fire Alarms Are Paroled For Year

Judge Chambers Shows Leniency On Their Promises Of Better Conduct

Marquis Taylor, Robert Campbell and Insti Martikkla three boys arrested for sending in false fire alarms entered pleas before Judge Chambers this morning. Asked why they had sent in the alarms one of the boys said that it was for fun. Judge Chambers informed them that the sending in of false alarms was a serious matter. He believed that the boys were old enough to know better but as it was their first offense and they all promised better conduct in the future they were paroled for one year upon the payment of costs.

Two other boys who were with them, Gene Winters and Wiliam Nygart were not called up for sentence as they are already out on parole on other charges and their cases will be taken care of in juvenile court.

Arrest Eight In "White Line Gang" Raid Last Night

Lieutenant Hillers and Officer John Moore last night raided the place of Dave Carson, corner of Shenango and Bridge streets, where they found a party in progress among some eight members of the so-called "white line gang", who drink anything from real liquor to canned heat. Malt tonic was evidently the refreshing liquid in use this time, as a number of empty malt tonic bottles were found about the place and all the men there were feeling real good.

The officers saw some of the men climb a fence near the storage place of Mike Cavalla and on investigation found some of the malt tonic missing from that place. Eight men in all were arrested, Cardon being charged with being the keeper of a disorderly house, and the other seven with being visitors. Carson is spending a tenday vacation in the county jail, while sentence was suspended in the case of two visitors. The other five were given the alternative of a $5 fine or five days in the county jail or five days work. Indications are that most of them will work.

"GOD COULDN'T BE EVERYWHERE, SO HE MADE MOTHERS."
In this proverb, even the pagan recognizes in the mother, a God appointed guardian of the race.

Our own city knows no greater need than just such guardianship or mothering — for our homes, for our schools, for our recreations and for our public housekeeping. To aid such work is the aim of this column.

THE PERMANENT HEADING OF THIS COLUMN

A number of years ago, while president of the chamber of commerce, David Jameson gave this slogan to his city—"New Castle is my Castle."

Like many of the good things of life, the value of a slogan lies in its use. Adopted and used, this particular one may serve not only to stimulate to highest endeavor but through the loyalty inspired, may restrain from acts injurious to the city's welfare. It is a slogan which may be used alike by the high and the lowly, by rich and by poor, by young and old.

In adapting it to the use of this column, the wish goes with it that every department of the Woman's Club may be able to put back of its work something of the spirit of devotion and service to New Castle which was such an outstanding characteristic of Mr. Jameson's life.

ENTHUSIASM IN WORK

The opening meetings of the Woman's club show considerable interest in the year's work and unusual activity among the various departments. The Social Committee started the ball a rolling by the memorable luncheon at the Field club. The ladies comprising this committee are Mrs. James M. Smith, Mrs. G. G. Stitzinger, Mrs. A. C. Hoyt, Mrs. W. K. Hugus, Mrs. G. P. Johnson, Mrs. F. F. Urey, Mrs. Robert M. Garland.

The membership committee with Mrs. H. L. Dague as chairman, has presented fourteen new names as candidates for membership. All were elected.

The program committee consisting of Mrs. S. W. Perry, Mrs. C. C. Green, and Mrs. Elmer Crawford is responsible for the attractive program arranged for the year.

The legislative committee, Mrs. F. S. Brenneman chairman, gave a helpful program in the explanation of amendments and bond issues so clearly explained by Mrs. Bowman of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. George Fox has recommended on behalf of the literature committee, a list of fiction and non fiction books as suitable for winter reading. These will be published next week.

Other departments are busy lining up their work.

NOTES FROM THE S. F. P. W.

Reports from the state will be given at the next regular meeting. In the meantime a few points of immediate interest are noted: Next year's meeting goes to Erie. The invitation from the New Castle Woman's Club will hold good for a later time, however, when this section of the state is again in line for the convention.

INTEREST IN PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

The deep interest of club women in the presidential campaign was constantly making itself known. The president, Mrs. Frick, announced that the Federation is non partisan but that members should express their citizenship through securing 100 per cent of their respective clubs at the polls.

Miss Gertrude McKinney of Butler stated that while the Federation is non partisan, it has always stood for policies and issues and that members should vote for the men who stand for the things for which the Federation stands.

Gifford Pinchot said "Herbert Hoover will be the next president of the United States." "Pennsylvania will support Hoover because it is normally Republican; because it is dry; and because it is protective."

"The women of the state," he said, "in fact the women of the nation will be the biggest factor in electing Mr. Hoover."

Mr. Pinchot's real message dealt with the bond issues for reforestation. He said, "We are running headlong into a wood famine. Industry needs it, commerce needs it." As an example he said that the sticks which the lolly pop uses cost $13,000 a year.

Policeman Foils Woman's Attempt To Die In River

(Special To The News)

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 20.—Pretty Mrs. Barbara Elliott, 24, of New York, deserted companionate bride, true to her promise in a note left in the Walt Whitman hotel yesterday, attempted to leap from the Delaware river bridge today. Only the quick action of Patrolman William Bafler prevented the beauty from taking her own life.

The young bride was climbing the guard rail when she was spied by the policeman. Shouting, Bafler dashed forward and seized her as she was preparing to leap. The woman fought frantically, sobbing and screaming. Finally she ceased and was taken to the bridge station where she declared: "If I don't jump off this bridge I'll jump off another one."

Commission Orders Beckman Dismissed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Dismissal of Charles Beckman, suspended captain of detectives, was recommended today by the civil service commisison. The verdict found the detective guilty of "conduct unbecoming an officer."

Beckman was called for trial following a report by the special grand jury investigating police corruption declaring him "unfit to hold any city office." He attempted to resign in the midst of his trial before the board but his resignation was rejected. The trial came to an end, however, when he refused to reappear at the hearings.

WILL HAVE CONFERENCE ON HAMILTON STREET LINE

Councilmen will meet with R. N. Graham, manager of Pennsylvania-Ohio railways next Friday relative to the company's proposed abandonment of the car line in Hamilton street and also relative to the city's desire that the company restore streets to the conditions they were when the tracks were laid.

The company has served notice on the city that revenue does not justify operation of cars in Hamilton street to the Shenango township line —which is part of the company's route to Cascade Park.

The city sent Inspector Dysart to keep a check on patronage and he is said to have found that the patronage is light. The company says the line has been operated at a loss.

It is not likely the city will interpose objections when the application to abandon the line is presented to the public service commission of Pennsylvania.

Councilmen believe, however, that before this becomes a certainty the company should agree to restore streets to condition—following abandonment of car operations.

They point to Grant street where cars have been removed and auto bus service instituted. They believe Grant and Hamilton streets should be put back in condition—probably by resurfacing.

This will be the main topic when Mr. Graham confers with the city councilmen.

Dr. Eckener Will Make Akron Trip

Zeppelin Commander Will Make Trip To Ohio City

ROUTE OF COMING ZEP TRIP UNCERTAIN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, master of the air Leviathan Graf Zeppelin, fatigued by a strenuous day of welcome by the nation's capital yesterday, had only one formal function on his program for today before his departure for Akron, Ohio, late this afternoon. A luncheon at the National Press Club.

Eckener and First Officer Ernst Lehmann, and possibly some of the others who made the epochal trip across on the Graf Zeppelin, will leave Washington for Akron at three o'clock. At Akron Eckener will confer with officials of the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation, who will build the two new zeppelins for the American navy under a contract recently awarded. Before returning east the party will visit Chicago.

The zeppelin party were guests of Dr. Otto Kiep, charge d'affaires of Germany at the Carlton hotel last night, and retired early.

Eckener remained in seclusion at his hotel before going to the German embassy where the morning was spent prior to the Press club luncheon.

Route Of Zeppelin Uncertain.

It was expected that most of the members of the party would return directly to New York before night and there await Eckener's return to Lakehurst. The Graf Zeppelin, according to present plans, will leave Lakehurst probably Wednesday for Scott Field, Belleville, Ills., where after being moored to the mooring mast there, will head toward Chicago.

She will return to Lakehurst Thursday, passing over Cleveland and Detroit enroute. Whether she will pass over any other large cities of the middle west will depend largely on the weather conditions she finds, according to First Officer Lehmann.

"We will not know what route we will take until after we take the air," Lehmann said. "The route depends on what weather we find, and our decision will not be made until we have started."

The present plans of Dr. Eckener are to leave Lakehurst on the return trip to Germany next Saturday. No passenger list has yet been made up. There are more applications than accommodations.

Johnny Kraft New Castle Expert Swimmer Not Enthused Over Woman's Tank Record

By JOHN KRAFT
(Special To The News)

NEW YORK CITY, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Lottie Moore Schoemmell set a new world's endurance swimming record at the Park Central hotel pool here this week by remaining afloat 72 hours 2 minutes and 40 seconds. The feat, though a remarkable one, was marred somewhat by the fact that she wasn't in motion all the time, she at times floating motionless to rest her body.

The writer doesn't wish to take any credit away from the new world's titleholder for endurance swimming, but in witnessing her performance he was greatly disappointed to see that she swam very little during the 72 hours. Perhaps it's the rules of endurance swimming just to idle around the water to "kill time", but at any rate it takes some of the glory away from the record.

Endurance swimming to the writer meant continuous motion of the arms and legs, swimming up and down the indoor pool, negotiating the turns and plodding on until ready to withdraw from the pool. But when the writer entered the balcony of the Park Central hotel pool he found Mrs. Schoemmel floating motionless on her back. Floating motionless is a very simple task, especially if a person has buoyancy, and such was the case with Mrs. Schoemmel. People with excess avoirdupois can lay on the water for an indefinite period of time without moving arms or legs and without tiring. It is weakening to a certain extent, but not very tiring. Mrs. Schoemmel used this method of remaining afloat to advantage, and it is needless to say her buoyancy was the big factor in helping her set a new world's record.

Mrs. Schoemmel was attired in an all-white bathing suit. Her body was covered from head to foot with a thick coat of white grease. She wore no bathing cap, and during the writer's visit to the pool Mrs. Schoemmel was swimming in her 59th hour and going strong. She didn't seem the least bit tired, for she chatted continually with her trainer and with visitors at the side of the pool. Frequently she would immerse completely and then come up with a big, broad smile. She swam very little during the hour and a half stay the writer was there. The pool was open to other swimmers, and men and women conversed with Mrs. Schoemmel at all times, evidently keeping her in the best of spirits. Mrs. Schoemmel's daughter and son were at the pool and smiled continuously at their wonderful "mama". A little black dog, presumably the pet of the family, kept an eye on his mistress.

Two lady friends of the swimmer were conversing with her, and during the course of conversation offered her a cigarette, but Mrs. Schoemmel refused. A gentleman friend entered with two letters and opened them and Mrs. Schoemmel read them while treading water. She treaded water during the greater part of her swim, using a half scissor kick. At times she used a crude crawl stroke, but was content with just remaining afloat. Mrs. Schoemmel exercised her arms and legs at intervals while swimming, and once assumed a floating position, closing her eyes to rest them from the strain she was undergoing. At the close of her swim she climbed out of the pool unassisted.

Mr. Sandler, attorney for Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston, another swimmer, and the only woman to swim the Catalina Channel, claimed that Mrs. Schoemmel touched bottom at times when swimming in the shallow end of the pool, but the writer didn't see her touch bottom once, she taking especial pains not to put her feet on the bottom.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Schoemmel swam from the Statue of Liberty to the Battery with her hands and feet tied, a distance of 1 3-4 miles. Here again the feat was marred to some extent by the fact that Mrs. Schoemmel had her hands tied in front of her body, which would give her use of her hands and not handicap her to any great extent. This feat isn't comparable to that of Jack Herbert, New Castle natator, who has frequently negotiated the distance across Conneaut Lake, swimming with his hands and feet tied, his hands, however, being tied in the rear and not in the front. There is quite a difference, to be sure.

Almost Half Million Visit Battlefields

Gettysburg Draws Record Crowd For Past Three Months

(International News Service)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Oct. 20.—The historical battlefield at Gettysburg continues to be a mecca for the tourists who seek out the site of the decisive battle of the Civil war as one of the country's shrines.

Almost half a million persons visited the battlefield during the past three months, according to the recent report of the superintendent of guides. The exact figure as given by the report was 473,112 persons who visited the field during July, August and September.

This total is almost 50,000 more than for the same three months last year. The figures break the record for any previous three months since it became necessary for the guides to keep a record and make a report to the superintendent.

1884: Long Republican Rule Ends

By CHARLES L. MULLIGAN
Written for Central Press and New Castle News

Grover Cleveland

James G. Blaine liked to refer to himself as the Henry Clay of the Republican party. Readers of these little digests will recall that Clay was the nation's hero, but couldn't persuade the nation to make him president. Blaine was twice denied the nomination in Republican years, and entered the lists with disaster in sight.

Blaine was named on the fourth ballot at the Chicago convention of '84. President Arthur had but little support. The platform called for a protective tariff and the gold standard. The Democrats met in the same city and nominated Grover Cleveland, reform governor of New York, a vigorous newcomer in politics, little known, and with no experience at Washington.

At a banquet in New York a few days before election the Rev. Dr. Burchard, proposing a toast, said that the Democratic party represented "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion." Blaine, whose own wife was a Catholic, did not immediately repudiate the sentiment. Some say he did not catch it. The country was rocked by the sensation that followed. This historic "bone" undoubtedly cost Blaine the presidency, for the state of New York, which swung the election, went Democratic by 563,154 to 562,005. It was the first national victory for the Democrats since 1856.

Prohibition and Greenback party candidates helped split the New York vote. The electoral vote was as follows:

Grover Cleveland, New York, and Thomas A. Hendricks, Indiana, Democrats, 219 votes; James G. Blaine, Maine, and John A. Logan, Illinois, Republicans, 182. (Had New York's slight plurality been swung the other way, Blaine would have won by 216 to 185.)

The popular vote: Cleveland, 4,911,017; Blaine, 4,848,334; St. John (Prohibition), 151,809; Butler (Greenback and Anti-Monopoly parties), 133,825.

(This is the twenty-fifth of a series of 35 digests of presidential campaigns. The twenty-sixth will be: "1888: The People Endorse Cleveland, but Harrison Wins.")

THOUGH I speak with the tongue of men and angels and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal . . . . . And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge; and though I have all faith; so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing. . . . . .

AND a certain ruler asked Him, saying, "Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" And Jesus said unto him . . . "Though knowest the commandments . . . " And he said, "All these have I kept from my youth up." Now when Jesus heard these things, He said unto him, "Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven." . . . .

AND there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing. And He called unto Him His disciples, and said unto them, "Verily I say unto you, that this poor widow has cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury." . . . . . .

AND now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity. . . . .

No. 14.
A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to article fifteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by adding thereto a new section to be known as section four thereof.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:

Section 4. The General Assembly is hereby authorized to provide for the consolidation of the county, poor districts, cities, boroughs and townships of the county of Allegheny, and the offices thereof, into a consolidated city and county, with the constitutional and legal capacity of a municipal corporation, to be known as the City of Pittsburgh, and to provide for a charter for its government. The said charter shall be submitted to the electors of said county at a special election to be provided for therein. If the majority of the electors voting thereon, in the county as a whole, and at least two-thirds of all the electors voting thereon in each of a majority of the cities, boroughs and townships thereof, vote in the affirmative, the act shall take effect for the whole county. If rejected, the said charter may be resubmitted to the electors in original, new or modified form, at any subsequent election until adopted.

It shall be competent, subject to the police power of the State, for the Legislature to provide in said charter

1. For the exercise, by the consolidated city, of all the powers and duties vested in the county of Allegheny, and the poor districts thereof, and such other powers appropriate to a municipality as may be specified therein, except such powers as are specifically reserved by this section to the municipal divisions herein provided for.

2. For the election, by the people of the consolidated city, of a board of commissioners, the number to be fixed by the charter, in lieu of present county commissioners, in which board shall be vested all the powers of the consolidated city and county, except as otherwise provided in the charter.

3. For the organization of a government for the consolidated city and county, and for the election or appointment of the constitutional and other necessary officers thereof, and for their powers and duties.

4. For the organization of all courts, other than those of record in the consolidated city, and for the procedure thereof, and for the appointment of judges and officers thereof, which courts shall exercise the jurisdiction, powers and duties of the magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace, and such other powers as may be conferred by law.

5. For the transfer to the consolidated city of the property and indebtedness of the county of Allegheny, and the poor districts thereof, and of such property and indebtedness of the cities, boroughs and townships thereof as relate to the powers and duties of said consolidated city, and to provide for an equitable adjustment and payment of such indebtedness, and for this purpose, any taxation therein shall be uniform taxation within the meaning and intent of other provisions of this Constitution.

6. For the assessment of property for taxation, the levying and collection of taxes, and the payment of the cost of any public improvement, in whole or in part, by special assessment upon abutting and nonabutting property materially benefited thereby, and, for this purpose, real estate so charged shall be classified as urban, suburban, and rural, and the assessments made in accordance with such classifications.

7. For the creation, by the board of commissioners, of districts for the purpose of regulating the location, height, area, bulk and use of buildings and premises.

8. For the creation, by the board of commissioners, of special districts for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, maintaining, operating or contracting for, any public property, work, improvement, utility or service, not for the exclusive benefit of any one municipal division, and for the payment of the costs and maintenance of such property, work, improvement, utility or service, there may be special taxes levied throughout such special districts respectively, separate and apart from the general city tax.

Provided, however, That it is the intent of this section that substantial powers be reserved to the cities, boroughs and townships situated in Allegheny County. To this end the charter shall provide for the continued existence of the said cities, boroughs and townships, as municipal divisions of the consolidated city, under their present names and forms of government, subject to the laws provided for government of municipalities of their respective forms and classes, except as provided in the charter, and with their present boundaries, provided that the City of Pittsburgh may be designated by a term other than city and may be divided into two or more municipal divisions, and that any two or more municipal divisions of the consolidated city may, with the consent of a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of such divisions at any general or special election, be united to form a single municipal division.

The said municipal divisions shall have and continue to possess the following powers:

1. The constitutional and legal capacity of municipal corporations, except as limited in the charter.

2. The power to lay and collect taxes and to incur indebtedness, subject to the limitations which are or may be imposed by law upon cities, boroughs or townships of corresponding classification, for the purpose of carrying out any lawful power of said divisions.

3. The power to acquire, own, construct, maintain, operate or contract for all kinds of public property, works, improvements, utilities or services, which shall be within the municipal division, and principally for the use and benefit of the inhabitants thereof, provided this power shall not be taken to include the construction and maintenance of through-traffic streets and bridges, tunnels, subways and appurtenances thereof, nor main or trunk lines for sewer, power and water service, running through more than one municipal division, and designated as such by the board of commissioners.

4. The power to maintain a local police force, and local fire department, with the necessary buildings, appurtenances and equipment therefor, which may be supplemental to the police force and fire department of the consolidated city.

5. The power to establish a limitation of indebtedness for the consolidated city and the municipal divisions therof, provided that the total of the indebtedness of the consolidated city and the municipal divisions thereof shall not, in the aggregate, exceed the limits of the total indebtedness allowed by the Constitution to the county and to the separate municipalities.

6. All other powers not specifically granted by the charter to the consolidate city: Provided, however, That a municipal division may surrender, by majority vote of the electors voting theron at any general or special election, any of its powers to the consolidated city, subject to the acceptance thereof by the board of commissioners.

The said charter may be amended by the Legislature, subject to ratification by a majority of the electors of the consolidated city voting theron at any general or special election: Provided, That no amendment reducing the powers of municipal divisions shall be effective unless ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of a majority of said divisions.

The Story Of The Hawaiian Islands
Early Relations With Hawaii

BY THE END OF THE FIRST QUARTER OF THE 19TH CENTURY THE IMPORTANCE AND POSSIBILITIES OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS WERE GENERALLY RECOGNIZED. THERE WERE RICH FARMING REGIONS IN THE ISLANDS AND FOREIGN SETTLERS WERE WELCOMED. MANY AMERICANS MIGRATED TO HAWAII AND ESTABLISHED SUGAR PLANTATIONS.

FOR A LONG TIME THE NATIVE KINGS, ADVISED BY THE MISSIONARIES, RULED WISELY. IN 1840 HAWAII DECLARED ITSELF A CONSTITUTIONAL MONARCHY AND TWO YEARS LATER AN EMBASSY WAS SENT TO THE UNITED STATES. THE ENVOYS INTERVIEWED DANIEL WEBSTER, THEN SECRETARY OF STATE, AND RECEIVED FROM HIM RECOGNITION OF THE HAWAII KINGDOM.

IN NOVEMBER, 1843, ENGLAND AND FRANCE BY A JOINT DECLARATION, FORMALLY RECOGNIZED HAWAII AS AN INDEPENDENT NATION. IN 1847, WHEN THE UNITED STATES ACQUIRED CALIFORNIA, THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS ASSUMED GREATER IMPORTANCE IN THE EYES OF AMERICANS, BECAUSE OF OUR GROWING INTEREST IN THE PACIFIC.

HAWAII FURNISHED US WITH THE PRODUCTS OF HER PLANTATIONS AND IN RETURN OFFERED A READY MARKET FOR AMERICAN MANUFACTURED ARTICLES. IN 1875, A COMMERCIAL RECIPROCITY TREATY WAS CONCLUDED BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND HAWAII, AND IT WAS AGREED THAT THE LATTER SHOULD NOT COME UNDER THE CONTROL OF ANY OTHER FOREIGN NATION.

Football Rules May Not Undergo Changes

Majority Of Football Men Satisfied With Present Set Of Rules

Glenn Warner Would Make Dead Ball Of All Fumbles As Only New Change

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—For the first time since they took the bustles off the players and put them on cheer leaders, we seem to have achieved a game of football that is coming into acceptance, even if only by a minority of those actively identified with the proposition. The writer naturally has talked with only a comparatively few of the thousands who make football their life, but these have been unanimous in their tacit affirmation of the rules as they are constituted at the moment. At the very worst they feel that the code should be sent out on approval for an interval lasting well into the third year.

It is the writer's opinion that, if the goal posts continue on the end zone, the lateral pass still is operating and the dead-ball-on-a-fumbled-punt remains in force with some degree of satisfaction at the end of the interval in question, they may stay with us not a great deal less than forever. Minor repairs, perhaps; but none of those machine shop jobs where you leave the car as security and hope the man will have the common decency never to mention the bill again.

The football rules committee, which after all, represents the only and ultimate sentiment in the matter, isn't going to do anything radical without provocation or even with it. This committee has been "provocated" before absolutely to no purpose because it is uncommonly consistent in at least one respect. It never actually disapproves of itself. If charity begins at home it is firmly convinced that self -appreciation pays off the second mortgage. It has reared this step-child: it will stand by it as long as it has a leg of its own.

Little Criticism

It, therefore, is encouraging that criticism, always to be expected in the fact of perfection itself, seems to be at something of a minimum. As far as my observation goes, the lateral pass appears destined to become an integral part of the attack. A new play last year, it perforce was approached discreetly or not at all. But now they are beginning to sense the possibilities of this play and gradually it is coming into general and expeditious use. As it develops it may throw too great a burden on the defense, in which case they may have to hobble it. But it isn't likely they ever will throw it away entirely.

The committee made a dead ball of the fumbled punt to take an element of great uncertainty out of the game and the football coach never breathed who would think of objecting. Those gentlemen are all for a life of untroubled security, never having had one. Some of them, indeed, are for going further with this rule. Glenn Warner, for example, is for making a dead ball of all fumbles. I think you can write the fumble-punt rule in the book in indelible ink.

There has been some adverse comment on the current position of the goal posts on the ground that it discourages field goal kicking. Rockne isn't even sure that it does that, since he points out with justice that it opens the angle on kicks from the sidelines and corners. At that, the average coach claims that he isn't for drop-kickers, per se, since most of them are specialists or at least give too much attention to their art. I have known coaches, however, who were able to successfully conceal this antagonism with the score tied and 30 seconds to play.

Bessemer Trims Hickory, 7 To 0 In Grid Battle

Shrefler Tallies Touchdown In Second Quarter By Line Plunge

Bessemer high school football team defeated Hickory high school, Mercer county, in a hard fought grid battle at the Bessemer high field on Friday afternoon. The final score was 7 to 0.

Shrefler tallied the touchdown for Bessemer late in the second period of the game by plunging through the strong Hickory line. Shrefler also added the extra point by a line play after touchdown.

The game was hard fought in all quarters with the Mercer county class B champions of 1927 battling hard to defeat the Lawrence county team. Bessemer played a fine brand of football and at one stage of the game held the Hicktory team on the 12-yard line.

Hickory high was weak on one tackle and it was through this spot that Bessemer did the majority of their ground gaining. The Mercer countians threatened early in the second half and it looked as if they would tally but Bessemer's strong forward wall held the invaders in check.

Grist, the big Bessemer fullback saved the day for his team when he punted from the 12-yard line to the Hickory 40-yard line. Nord made a spectacular play for Bessemer by grabbing a Hickory forward pass and racing to the 10-yard line. Bessemer was in position to score but drew a 15-yard penalty. They had worked the ball to the 12-yard line again when the game ended.

New Castle Plays Westinghouse High At Franklin Field

New Castle High school football team is playing Westinghouse High team at Franklin Field. The game started at 2:30 o'clock.

Both teams are undefeated in W. P. I. A. L. competition and a keen battle is expected. The New Castle team ruled slight favorites to cop the game today.

The Westinghouse team arrived in New Castle this morning by bus from Pittsburgh and made their headquarters at The Castleton. Coach Burton brought a squad of 25 men to Lawrence county.

KEEP YOUR EYES ON THESE BABIES — BY FEG MURRAY

Here are five star ball-carriers, one from the East, one from the West, one from the South, one from the Southwest, and one from the middle west. You will hear plenty about these husky boys before the football season is over, and maybe two or three of them will receive All-American honors.

"Biff" Hoffman, who is not trying to catch that football in his mouth, came into his own last year in Stanford's games against California and Pittsburgh. Pop Warner used "Biff" lenty in those contests, and the big fulback looked like a second Ernie Nevers in the way he handled the ball. Biff punts and kicks goals, passes and carries the ball, and, while he may not be a second Nevers in backing up the line, he is no slouch in that department. His clever manipulation of the "Statue of Liberty" and "Bootleggers" plays in the Stanford-California game was a sight I will long remember. "Biff" is a star shot-putter and discuss-thrower, having been on several Stanford track teams that took part in the I. C. 4. A. and National Collegiate meets.

"Stumpy" Thompson broke into print last year as a Sophomore and was instrumental in helping Alexander's "Yellow Jackets" of Georgia Tech to defeat both Alabama and Georgia, and win the Southern Conference championship. He has short arms and legs, but is fast and elusive, with a disturbing change of pace and a mean straight arm. During the past summer "Stumpy" has been a life guard at a swimming pool in Atlanta. He is an excellent defensive player.

Coach "Doc" Spears of Minnesota has moved a giant Norseman from the line to take Herb Joesting's place at fullback. He is "Brancho" Nagurski, 205 pounds of beef and iron, and a fast man on his feet and fast with his brains. He is doped to compete with the Indian, McLain of Iowa, for the honor of being the best fullback in the Big Ten.

Al Marsters, the Sophomore flash who gained more than a mile of gridiron for Dartmouth last season, is looked upon as one of the best backfield men in the East. His mark of 1,834 yards gained last season in eight games was about 700 yards more than Red Grange carried the ball in his best nine-game season. His 52-yard run down the side lines in the Yale Bowl will not soon be forgotten by those who saw it.

Jake Hanna, Centenary's halfback, is another Junior, and should be heard of often before December rolls around. Gerald Mann, Southern Methodist's star of 1927, has warned me to watch this bird, and I wish I could!

Somebody ought to tell Joie Ray and El Ouafi that they don't need to run those 26 miles, 385 yards. There are plenty of taxis around.

Union And Wilmington Teams In No Score Tie

Union High school's powerful gridiron combination stood up before the forceful onslaughts of the New Wilmington High school eleven at Scotland lane Friday afternoon and failed to allow the college town's boys to do what they had come here to do. Likewise did the New Wilmington gridders face the attacks of Union's players and so tightly did they hold that the game ended with the scoring card clean. The final score was 0-0.

The game, played before an estimated throng of nearly 500, was interesting throughout although neither of the teams tallied a point. Union set the pace for the New Wilmington team in the first half and all but scored, returning in the second half to lose the position they had gained. The college town representatives then slashed back and forth over the field and in several instances brought Union's defense to the fore, just in time to prevent the purple and gold boys from scoring.

Neither team threatened during the first period although the New Wilmington lads did get to Union's 12 yard line by a heavy punt which was aided by a heavy easterly wind. But it was the Union township lad's ball and they protected it. After the oval had been returned to the 30 yard line by Union's men, New Wilmington again took possession on downs. A fake pass was knocked down and Patterson, of New Wilmington, dropped back to kick. His punt sent the ball rolling over the Union goal line and it was brought out to the 20 yard mark. Union commenced a drive that ended on their own 35 yard line with the sounding of the quarter whistle.

In the second period, with Chill and Schiek advancing the ball for Union and with Klumph and McConnell stopping their drives for the opposition, then with Neal, Eagleson and Davis carrying the oval for New Wilmington and with Augustine and Morrison of Union flattening their sweeping end runs, the ball bounded back and forth over the field, now in Union's possession and now in the college boys' possession. It was in this quarter that Union fumbled on New Wilmington's five yard line and prevented what appeared a sure touchdown. The New Wilmington punter sent the ball out of danger when he kicked the oval to his own 40 yard line. The half ended with Union in possession of the ball on their rivals' 45 yard line.

New Wilmington kicked to Union at the opening of the third period, Schiek receiving and carrying the ball for some distance. After several penalties had been given Union, New Wilmington took the ball and romped down the field to Union's five yard marker. Here a penalty of five yards to New Wilmington shattered their hopes of scoring to some extent at that time. Nevertheless, after the ball had been taken up the field again, New Wilmington rallied again to return to within the shadow of Union's goal post. Union had been hard hit this quarter. New Wilmington had threatened twice and a number of penalties had been dealt the Union boys.

In the final period, Coach Burnham of Union sent in some second stringers and to inspire the hopes of the Union men. New Wilmington made several large gains around end, but to little avail. McConaghy, a Union sub intercepted one of New Wilmington's passes and ruined the college boys' hopes once more. While moments were fleeting away Union made a last stand, attempting to score through a passing attack. Their forwards were grounded however. The game ended with Union in possession of the ball on New Wilmington's 32 yard line.

Greer, Klumph, Neal, Eagleson and Davis showed up well for the college lads while Morrison, Rech, Augustine, Schiek, Thompson, Jawarski and Chill led Union's atack.

The summary follows:

Union—0		New Wilmington—0
Lanigan	LE	Greer
Morrison	LT	Lee
Pattison	LG	Klumph
Rech	C	Rose
Stockman	RG	Greer
Augustine	RT	McConnell
K. Clark	RE	Smith
Schiek	QB	Neal
Thompson	LH	Eagleson
Jawarski	RH	Patterson
Chill	FB	Davis

Substitutions—Union: Wallace for Pattison; McConaghy for K. Clark; C. Clark for Chill.

Time of quarters: 12 minutes.

Officials—Referee, Dave Hoskins, Michigan; umpire, Johnson, Ohio State.

A separate part of the bleachers will be roped off for the New Castle delegation.

Peterson Wins On Foul Blow

By SID MERCER
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—In the years to come, when facts only stick out of boxing records and circumstances are forgotten, Big Boy Peterson may be able to point with pride to a victory scored over Paulino Uzcudun the gold-tusked woodchopper of the Pyrenees, of the night of October 19, 1928, in Brooklyn.

Big Boy did not know he was the winner until several minutes after the decision was rendered by Referee Louis Magnolia, who delivered the verdict in his usual dramatic manner by knocking down the loser.

Favor Army To Beat Harvard On Grid Today

Army Eleven Has Greatest Schedule Of All Time To Play This Year

NEXT SATURDAY YALE VS. ARMY

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 20. — West Point's attempt to do big things in a big way, with the assistance of most of the good ones from hither, thither and yon, will go for a dress rehearsal this afternoon in its meeting with fair Harvard, a local designation that may be used appropriately in connection with Harvard football for the first time in years. The ball game is expected to furnish something of a test of the Army's current notion that only the big ones fall hard.

Its schedule is so cosmopolitan in character that most of the major sections of the country will have an ear to the ground on this one, the idea being to identify the contestant that may make the mistake of having a nose to the ground when it is all over. The West Coast, with the Stanford-Army game in mind, will be more than casually interested. So will the Middle West, for the Army-Notre Dame event is only two weeks distant. The Missouri Valley likewise has an Army opponent waiting, namely Nebraska, and, of course, the immediate East is concerned over the result because it will make or break the significance of the Yale-Army game next Saturday. The South won't be looking fixedly at the distant sky line, either. It sent up a pretty good candidate, Southern Methodist, to lose by one point and naturally whatever happens to Army football henceforth will have some effect, pro or con, on Southern or at least Southwestern prestige.

Army Is Favored

The big idea of this ultra-ambitious schedule has something to do with self-determination among service football teams, the furnishing of circumstantial evidence that the Army is sufficient unto iself rather than unto the Navy. It has given the Harvard Athletic Association quite a break, for the thing sold out on itself weeks ago and the scalpers this morning were scalping everything that wasn't sewed into the lining of the vest. As a sap-seducer, the affair just couldn't miss.

Harvard against one of the East's best, an outfit that is bent on playing everybody any time. The first visit of the Cadet Corps to Boston in more than 10 years, which is a pretty long time even if you don't spend it in jail. The first Army-Harvard game since 1910. The notion that Harvard has a chance, which is enough to confuse anyone.

They will have more than 50,000 in the stadium by game time, which is approximately half the sales they might have made if they were playing this contest under the rules and regulations of the New York subway.

According to the betting, Harvard's "best team in ten years" will not be good enough, for the odds favored the Army at 10 to 7 and justifiably so. Any ball team that has a Cagle in the backfield to work with two outstanding tackles like Sprague and Perry must be figured to beat an outfit that only thinks it can play football.

Good times are those in which people accumulate the debts they must pay in bad times.

Penn Hopes To Defeat State

Penn Set To Avenge Defeat Last Year At Hands Of Nittany Lions

CARNEGIE TECH BATTLES W. & J.

(International News Service)

Penn promises to avenge itself on the Nittany Lions from Penn State at Philadelphia this afternoon for the 20 to 0 drubbing the Lions handed the Quakers last year. State had its difficulties last week while the Quaker machine continues to bowl down all comers and promises to finish the season with colors flying.

Lafayette tackles Bucknell at Lewisburg in one of the big games of the state's sport card today, and in point of fight and interest this seems the best bet of the afternoon. Bucknell took a fall out of State last week, while Lafayette has been piling up high scores against all comers.

Carnegie Tech, only undefeated Big Four team in the tri-state district, tackles Washington-Jefferson, its ancient jinx opponent, determined to erase the memory of Wash-Jeff's 19 to 6 victory of last year.

Pitt Vs Allegheny.

The Pitt Panther, which took one on the whiskers from West Virginia last Saturday, ought to find the way fairly clear to victory over Allegheny this year. Pitt walloped the Meadville outfit 52 to 0 last year. Duquesne, the fighting little aggregation which downed Wash-Jeff last week, tackles Loyola from Baltimore at Pittsburgh, and the Dukes have no setup, but should win.

Franklin-Marshall hopes to avenge itself on Muhlenberg at Lancaster for the 12 to 0 beating they took last year. Geneva has its fling against Thiel at Beaver Falls today. Dickinson has the edge over Pennsylvania Military at Chester, while Swarthmore and Susquehanna battle at Philadelphia, as also do Temple and Albright.

Ursinus tackles Delaware at Collegeville, Villanova and Gettysburg at Villanova, Waynesburg and Bethany at Waynesburg, St. Thomas and Canisius at Scranton, St. Francis and George Washington at Altoona, Schuylkill and Gallaudet at Reading, and Juniata and Ashland at Johnstown.

Firpo And Katkish Box Monday Night

Winner To Be Matched With Floyd Hybert As Soon As Ashtabula Boy's Lip Heals; Interest In Goodman-McFarland Semi-Final; Three Other Bouts On Card

Forty eight hours remain until Henry Firpo and Jack Katkish, welterweights meet in a bout scheduled to go ten rounds at Jolly bowl and should Katkish win from the Louisville fighter he will be matched with Floyd Hybert.

Originally Hybert had been listed to box Firpo in a return bout but owing to an infected lip the Ashtabula boy had to call off the go but his signed contract is in the office of the commission and when right he will take on the winner.

Goodman vs. McFarland

Firpo has trained at Cleveland and Katkisk has been 'prepping' at Pittsburgh where he has fought many battles. Of the pair Firpo is the more clever and hits hard with his right hand while Katkisk is tough, rugged and can hook sporofics with either hand.

The principals will arrive Monday.

Joey Goodman, Hebrew of Norfolk, who has joined the camp of Jimmie Dunn of Cleveland will box Jack McFarland who battled Johnny Datto here. They will meet in a six round bout at 130 pounds.

Mick Dugan, Cleveland will fight Bud Bollender of Youngstown in a six round go at 126 pounds. Bud has lost only one of three bouts here and recently took two battles at Centennial field.

O'Leary To Box

Elmo Clark who is a popular light-heavyweight will stack against Mike Sala, a hard-hitting Italian-American of Donora. Sala recently left the amateur ranks and has a knockout punch.

Tom O'Leary who will be remembered for his recent fights with Johnny Haggerty will meet Johnny Francis of Steubenville in the first four round bout.

Promoter William Jolly stated today that ventilators have been put in the bowl and they will operate Monday night. The first bout will start at 8:15 p. m.

Shipping Increase Noted In District At Present Time

Fifty Thousand Car Increase In Last Week Of September, Says Railway

An indication of a greater boom in shipping and industry in the district is found in the letter to James W. Cole, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, from the Allegheny regional advisory board, which states that in the last week of September exactly 1,896,763 cars were loaded with revenue shipments. This was 50,000 cars greater than the shipments the previous week and exceeds the records so far this year.

According to this letter received from Donald Moore, general chairman of the organization, there is every prospect that this increased volume on loading will continue for the remainder of the year and perhaps for an indefinite period of time.

The facts came from the district manager of the American Railway Association and are authentic figures for the shipments concerning this period of time. A careful check is being made on all shipments to determine the progress made in shipping.

This increased shipping is also an indication that working conditions will be bettered and that car repairs will be increased.

Police Are Kept On Continuous Tour After Youths

That the Hallowe'en season is now here, is indicated by the numerous calls received by the police, especially during the evening hours and often up and after midnight.

The calls are from ever section of the city. The police attempt to answer ever call received, especially due to the fact that in many instances, the boys causing the calls, have been doing some real damage.

The calls came in so fast last night, that the officers did not have time to keep their gasoline supply in good shape and on at least one occasion, it almost gave out before the officers could get a new supply.

Indications are that the police will find it necessary to take some drastic action against persons, who persist in these tactics.

Quite a number of boys and young men were the guests of the mayor and chief of police today, as a result of this condition of affairs, having been ordered to appear at police court Saturday morning. All were given a severe lecture.

Believe Failure To Set Altimeter Was Doom To Mail Pilot

Air Mail Official Makes Investigation Into Death Of William Hopson

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 20.—Failure to set his altimeter at the last control point may have been responsible for the plane crash in which William C. Hopson, New York-to-Cleveland air mail pilot, lost his life, Superintendent Wesley L. Smith of Cleveland, Bellefonte division, National Air Transport, revealed today before returning to Cleveland.

It was evident that Hopson was attempting to gain altitude when his plane struck the tops of the trees, Smith said.

Hopson's body was found yesterday in the wreckage of his burned plane in Bear hollow, near Polk, southwest of here, after having been missing since early Thursday.

With the altimeter not functioning, it is practically impossible for the aviator to tell his altitude, especially on a foggy and stormy night.

Aspery Is Given Another Chance To Obey Court Order

William Aspery, whom the court had ordered to pay his wife $4 per week following a hearing on a non-support charge on March 11, 1927, was brought before Judge Chambers on a process this morning, having failed to comply with the order of court.

Aspery admitted that he had only paid his wife one payment of $4. He gave as an excuse that he had been out of work and could not find work. Judge J. A. Chambers gave him another chance, provided he pays his wife $8 per week until arrearages are made up. It was intimated that his wife had asked that he be given another chance.

Motor Cars of the Future will be low, slender, graceful, like the NASH "400" today

NASH has achieved tomorrow's motor car vogue in the Nash "400," today.

Every line and contour of the new Salon Body style suggests the fleet, clean-cut profile of the thoroughbred. The "400" models are big, roomy cars, but without excess bulk, smart cars without exaggeration. They're low, slender, and graceful.

You only need to compare the appearance of the "400" to that of the other new cars of the year, to know definitely that you would rather have the Nash. You only need to drive the "400"—to steer it, park it—to know that here is exactly the kind of a car you've always wanted to own. Its new Twin Ignition performance and ease-of-handling are easily the year's most important additions to the pleasure-of-motoring.

We'll give you the key to any model you care to drive. Then, we'll leave it to you!

Hoover-Curtis Legion Formed

Dollar Contributions To Campaign Fund Will Be Received Here

With Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson in charge as chairwoman, a Hoover-Curtis Legion has been organized in Lawrence county, the purpose of which is to secure small contributions for the Hoover-Curtis campaign which is now in progress.

Under the plan as outlined, a corps of women solicitors will call upon the citizens of the city and county for dollar contributions. In brief, the club is a Dollar Contribution club, no large contributions being asked for. The Hoover-Curtis Legion will work in conjunction here with the Hoover club which was formed some time ago and which has been active for the Republican ticket.

The contribution cards call for one dollar subscriptions, no more, the idea being to have a large number of people interested in the campaign in a financial way, but the financial interest to be small enough that no one will be pinched.

Mrs. F. S. Brenneman, vice chairwoman of the Republican County committee and Mrs. C. S. Hart, who has been active in the Hoover-Curtis campaign will open the county campaign on Monday, soliciting the dollar contributions from citizens outside the city. Other solicitors will cover the city.

Through the activity of the Hoover-Curtis Legion it is hoped to build up some financial strength for the ticket, but also it is thought that it will have a favorable reaction among the people who give.

Twenty Thousand Lunatics Roam In England And Wales

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Twenty thousand lunatics and near-lunatics are roaming free about England and Wales.

This startling fact is revealed by the lunary board of control for those countries, which, in its annual report for the year just closed, deplores the lack of state and municipal accommodation for the mentally defective.

Existing accommodations can hardly cope with the 138,293 lunatics now being cared for under supervision, the report declares, it points out that the number of persons adjudged insane rises at the rate of about 2,000 annually.

Congressman Has Denied Charges

(International News Service)

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 20.—Congressman Everett Kent, of Bangor, Democratic candidate for re-election, denied today his automobile was used to carry political matter to the Lansford postoffice or any other postoffice.

Congressman Kent's name was mentioned in connection with the suspension of the postmaster at Lansford after it had been alleged he sent political matter in the "whispering" campaign against Herbert Hoover from the Lansford postoffice without postmarking the letters.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Though the trend of higher prices for the industrial stocks and specialties continued at the beginning of trading today, reactions were forced in a number of the prominent issues by the inevitable profit-taking following on the heels of such a violent forward movement as has been witnessed in the past week. Sober judgment in Wall street has been dictating a more conservative course in the high-flying specialty stocks, particularly where the pools have been strenuously at work.

The week-end business and financial reports were generally favorable, though the unseasonably warm weather had retarded somewhat the movement of goods in retail trade. The broad increase in freight car loadings was a favorable commentary on the expansion in domestic business.

Copper metal was marked up to 15½ cents a pound, and sold at that price today for the first time in three or four years. American Smelting having moved up about 15 points this week and the low-priced coppers have gained from 2 to 5 points. The coppers were strong today.

The "rights" to purchase the new stock of Montgomery Ward sold in the curb market at 4¾ and the stock on the big board held firmly around 350. Mercantile stocks were inclined to higher prices.

Selling of General Motors, Chrysler, Hudson, Hupp, Studebaker, etc., accompanied reports of a material curtailment of factory operations in the last two months of the year. Some of the makers of popular cars are feeling the effects of the Ford competition, which was absent a year ago.

The enormous buying and selling volume was maintained in the short session. A number of the oil stocks continued to move forward in this Bransdall carrying its sensational advance to 46. The Standard Oils were firm, with New York and New Jersey in demand.

Comparative quiet prevailed in the rails and equipments, in most of which the week's new gains were retained. Buying of New York Central and Rock Island continued in good volume. Utilities were steady, with New York City Gas and electric Light stocks at a slightly higher range of prices.

In the heat of the selling wave Radio and International Nickel declined about 10 points each, Hudson Motor lost 5 points and losses of 1-3 points were sustained by a number of active steel and motor shares. General Motors and Chrysler bore the brunt of the selling in the motors, the former losing about 4 points at the day's low price. Copper stocks were uniformly strong, in reflection of the marking up of the red metal to 15½ cents a pound.

Airplane Crash Termed Accident; Probe Is Held

Crash Near Atlantic City In Which Fatality Occurred Held As Accident

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 20.—The airplane accident here Thursday night, which resulted in the death of one person and the injury to seven others, was not due to criminal negligence, but was entirely accidental, in the opinion of the officials who have been conducting an investigation. County Physician Lewis R. Usouder said today that, in all probability, there would be no inquest, but that he would turn over the information he has to County Prosecutor Louis A. Repetto.

Inspector Samuel Lippman, acting chief of police, said his investigation convinced him there was no culpable negligence in the handling of the plane by the pilot, George King, of Garden City, N. J.

Plinty Je[illegible], Boston banker, is still in a serious condition in the hospital as is Henry Duer, of Baltimore, Md.

Weekly Review Of New York Market

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Speculative enthusiasm ran high in the stock market this week as the stocks of leading motor car, metal, mercantile and manufacturing enterprises jumped 10, 20 and 30 points in a single session, scoring new gains of forty to sixty points for the week and pushing up the averages to the highest levels in the history of the big markets.

Public demand for the fast-stepping speculative favorites converged from all points on Wall street and New York Stock Exchange as industrial and business reports confirmed the most optimistic forecasts of activities and increased earnings of the corporations behind them new high records in automobile manufacturing steel output copper and oil consumption textile operations, crop production, rail-ad freight car loadings, bank clearings and other tangible evidence of unprecedented prosperity fired the speculative imagination of stock traders in all sections of the country, and the stocks which were whirled up the fastest naturally recived the life's share of public attention.

Public Interest Shown

Stock split-ups new stock dividends, distribution of valuable rights to stockholders, increased regular and special cash dividends, mergers, acquisitions of other companies and other spectacular features have all helped to arouse public interest in the stock market, Wall street brokers have more accounts on their books than at any previous time, brokers' board rooms have been crowded with keenly interested participants in the activities of the market, who have shown no hesitancy in buying the high-priced specialties directly on top of the advances that have brought prices up 100 to 200 points from the low of a few months ago. The midnight lights are again burning in the bookkeepers cages and many of the brokerage houses have more business than they can conveniently handle.

In spite of an increase of $75,000,000 in brokers loans as revealed in the reserve board weekly report, the money market was slightly easier, call time loans were extended at 6¾ per cent. The lowest rate since the middle of September and call loans at faintly above six per cent. Except for the convertibles, the bond market made little or no response, and the investment bankers organization at its annual convention at Atlantic City bemoaned the fact that thousands of American investors have turned from the bond market to place their funds in speculative stocks. Incidentally the investment bankers also offered as their unbiased opinion the belief that stock prices were too high.

Little Change Noted

There was little change in the market leadership. Montgomery Ward, International Nickel, Victor Talking, Johns Manville and other speculative favorites of the big market plunged ahead in a wild and uncontrolled speculative movement, forcing prices upward 10 to 25 points at a clip. At 344 Montgomery Ward was up 227 points from the low of the year, while price gains of 10 to 30 points for the week were scored by DuPont, International Nickel, American International, in the Express stocks, Victor Talking Machine etc., after a week or two of comparative inactivity, General Motors and Studebaker forged to the front as aggressive leaders of the motor stocks General Motors rushed up to a new high above 223 and Studebaker above 88. The oil stocks returned to popular favor, with a score or more of the Standard and Independent oils in the best position of the year. Coppers sold higher, as also did the mercantile stocks, the theatrical group and most of the activity specialties.

Profit taking was upon the advance near the week end.

Scorns Fame; Wants Money

Djuna Barnes, New Novelist, Fears Her Book Will Be Suppressed

AUTHORS LIVE IN FEAR OF CENSORS

By WILLIAM IVY
(Copyright, 1928, by The New Castle News.)

PARIS, Oct. 20.—"It will make you famous," I suggested.

"I don't care about fame—I want the money!" she answered.

It was Djuna Barnes, the beautiful and talented author of "Ryder". Miss Barnes, at a week's interval, had received two cablegrams from her publisher, one announcing that the book was a best-seller within a month of publication, the other intimating that there were grave possibilities of its being suppressed, in the manner of Cabell's "Jurgen" ten years ago.

It was this second cablegram that took all the joy out of the author's life.

Djuna Barnes has been writing for a good many years—though you wouldn't think it to see her. She has been praised by scores of eminent critics. She has almost founded a school of writing—at all events there are many young writers who try to write as she does. She was one of the Little Review group—the Little Review of the days of Joyce's "Ulysses," of Ezra Pound, William Carlos Williams and the rest.

"Ryder" was her first big popular success. And a big success brings in tidy royalties that are useful in paying rent, and purchasing meals and paper and ink.

Anybody who thinks that modern writers love to shock the public and are delighted when their books are squashed by the anti-vice crusaders, ought to reflect that nobody is very intensely pleased when a thickly-buttered piece of bread is snatched from his hungry jaws.

Well, Djuna Barnes is no exception to this rule. And anybody who wants his head bitten off by a set of lovely white teeth had better just try to tell Djuna that the suppression of her book will bring her fame.

Womens Clubs Will Aid In Aeronautics

Educational Department Of Congress Of Women's Clubs Is First

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—The educational department of the Congress of Women's clubs claims the distinction of being the first group of women to sponsor a meeting devoted to the subject of aeronautics.

Professor A. H. Blaisdell of the engineering school of Carnegie Institute of Technology, which recently instituted a course in aeronautics, addressed the meeting recently.

Tracing the progress of aviation since the 18th century, Prof. Blaisdell outlined the rapid growth of aviation which he said is as yet an infant in its possibilities.

Europe is far in advance of America in its commercialization of air service, the professor stated. More than 75,000 passengers have traveled by air in England alone during the past year, he said, and Germany has well exceeded the 3,000,000 mark.

Sleeping car porters of whom there are 7,000 employed in the United States receive about $7,000,000 in tips during the year.

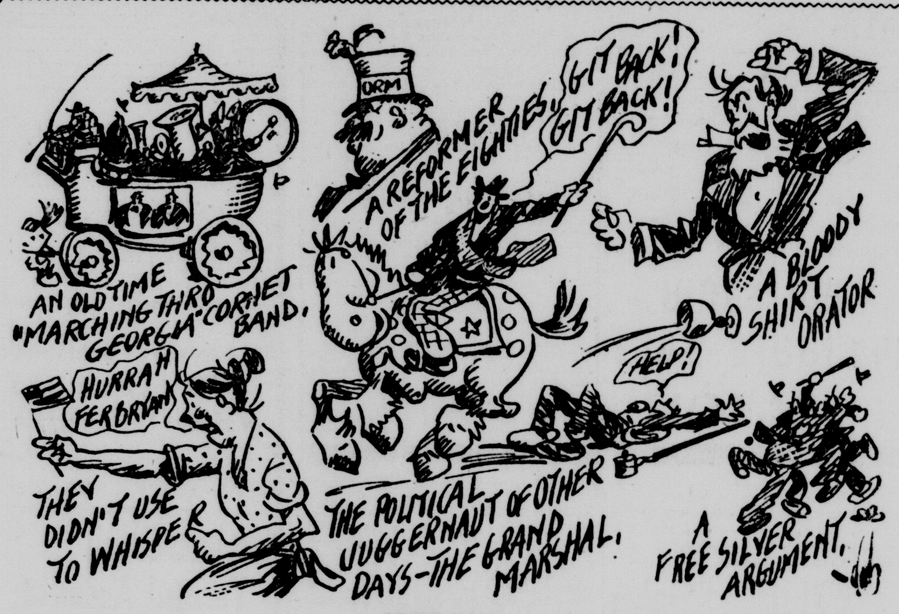
ABE MARTIN On Political Campaigns



OTHER DAYS

Another great national p'litical campaign is well under way, but it promises t' be a big improvement on th' ole-time mud-slingin', business-demoralizin', red-fire campaigns o' th' past. Ther'll be no front porchin', no conspiracies o' silence, no torchlight processions with excited purple-faced grand marshals on brewery horses trampin' down innocent onlookers, no human flags on th' court house lawns, no perades o' industrialworkers who never vote at all, no sawmill drum corps, no "Marchin' Thro' Georgia" cornet bands follered by beflagged tourin' cars filled with 300-pound party wheelhorses, no inflamed partisins firin' Roman candles in th' faces o' non-combatants, an' very few if any sky rockets. Ther'll be some speechmakin', some scattered whisperin, an mebbe a barbecue or two, but both parties 'll rely almost entirely on money, th' newspapers, an' th' radio. Al Smith, four-time Governor o' New York, an avowed enemy o' th' bootlegger, has met th' farmers o' th' northwest personally. He's told 'em that he knows jest exactly what's th' matter with 'em, an' that he expects t' operate jest as soon as th' votes are counted. Herb Hoover has taken a swing thro' th' industrial centers o' th' east, an' has promised th' grimy toiler a five-day week, big wages, an' restricted injunctions. Al Smith says "porpoise" fer "purpose", but he's got an engagin' personality an' may ketch th' farmers. They've been caught before, an' what's more, they're fer more likely t' vote than th' sophisticated workin' men o' Mass. an' N. J. Both parties 'll unleash a horde o' more or less prominent speakers, both men an' women, who'll talk farm relief in th' north-west, prohibition in th' South, th' tariff in th' middle-west, "moderation" in th' east, an' irrigation an' prosperity in th' fer west. So we're t' have nothin' more'n a big, prosy, conservative referendum, with millionaire business men on both sides, an' liberals an' fanatics an' hypocrites in th' middle. Those of us who have not already been debunked, an' who still vote, an' are willin' t' listen t' reason, may stay at home an' hear th' issues discussed over th' air, or tune in on a banjo solo. In th' out-o'-th'way, sparsely settled an' more less unenlightened districts ther may be a few scattered first voters' clubs, but I understand ther members 'll be restricted t' merely wavin' tiny American flags, an' not encouraged t' resort t' firecrackers or other explosives. Th' funny thing about th whole situation is that after twelve or fifteen million dollars have been expended fer "stationery, etc.," an' th' votes have been counted, an' a few loose ends have been taken care of, th' country 'll go on jest th' same. We'll allus have taxes, industrial slumps, spasms o' prosperity, labor disputes, trouble with Mexico, floods, balled-up foreign relations, plenty t' drink, th' tariff, th' Eighteenth amendment an' plowin'.

Paisley Mentions Possible Traffic Problem Solutions

In an address delivered recently before the members of the Rotary club of New Castle, Carl E. Paisley, local merchant and secretary of the Rotarians, cited the present traffic ills and a number of worth while solutions.

It is believed by many that Mr. Paisley's suggestions are practical and could be placed in effect almost any time. In the address, Paisley presented only facts that were determined through a careful survey of traffic conditions in this and other cities of like population.

He said in part:

"Fifty per cent of our business is interfered with by traffic congestion and the effect has been a reduction of business from one to 20 per cent. The traffic congestion is caused by unenforced regulations or by regulations that are misfitted or insufficient. Strict enforcement of good regulations has in most cities bettered the traffic congestion problem 25 per cent. Lack of parking space in our city is due mainly to what could be termed the 'all day parker.'

"To better our condition let me offer a suggestion. As it has been found that the average shopping time of a customer is 29½ minutes, and that 97 per cent of the parked cars along the main street belong to merchants and office workers and that but three per cent are those of customers, it is my opinion that all parking on Washington street from the west side bridge to the east side depot of the Pennsylvania railroad and on Mill street from the Neshannock river bridge to Falls street should be banned up until 9 a. m. We (merchants, office employes and others) would naturally seek a side street parking location and in this way free the main artery of our city from congestion and from the all day parkers, or those who park indefinitely.

"As a second suggestion to remedy the congestion and uncertainty at street intersections, let me add that purple lights should replace those of the yellow lights in our automatic traffic signals. No car would be permitted to move on this light, but instead pedestrians would be afforded an opportunity to cross the streets during this light. Motorists would be permitted to move in no direction.

"My third suggestion would be that of the formation of a traffic commission, composed of an official and unofficial body. The mayor, chief of police, superintendent of streets, engineer of zoning commission, city engineer, city solicitor and a named traffic engineer would comprise the official group while representatives of the A. A. A., Chamber of Commerce, retail merchants' association and civic clubs would be given recognition on the unofficial side."

In the address, Paisley made mention of the effect of traffic congestion on business and buyers, urging that something be done immediately to solve the present condition of downtown parking.

PERSUADERS.

The Greek orator Demosthenes once said that our affections are subtle persuaders. Argument is not of much value when we talk to our best friends. We are influenced more by a desire to please them than we are for more profound reasons. And yet there is perhaps, no more profound reason for doing anything than the reason of friendsip. If friendship does not imply a complete loyalty it is not deserving of the high and beautiful word.

MONUMENTS.

The outstanding cities in America are those whose individual citizens have done the most for the town. They are the cities where one sees statues, churches, Y. M. C. A. buildings, art museums, auditoriums and social service institutions which have been the gifts of men and women of vision and imagination. Monuments erected over graves by others are of little value, but monuments which men build themselves by devoted giving to the communities in which they live are everlasting in their significance.

VANITY.

None of us should esteem vanity too lightly. Vanity makes a man want to impress his friends. In order to do that he strives to do well in his home town. It is honorable to wish to have people think well of us. It is proper to have self-respect and to have pride in our achievements. It is a little hard to know just where pride leaves off and vanity begins. Vanity can account for a great deal of advancement in this world.

NEWSPAPERS.

The best newspaper is simply defined. It is the newspaper that contains the greatest amount of accurate information and which treats news with the greatest fairness. These two things rank in importance above its editorial opinions.

BASEBALL.

It has been said the general interest in baseball is less than it used to be. Crowds may not be as large at the games, Perhaps there is a little less talk in the barber shops. If it is true that the interest in baseball has at all declined it is of course, not due to a real lessening of the love of the American people for the game but it is due to the immensely increased competition of other entertaining interests. The bettering of automobiles and their lowered price, the building of good roads, the increase in efficiency in the making of motion pictures and all the other vast increase in varieties of entertainment have all had their effect on what still remains the great American game.
